A Voice in the Wilderness

God tells His servants in His Word, “Cry aloud, spare not. Lift up your voice like a trumpet and declare to My people their transgression and to the house of Jacob their sins!” (Isa.58:1, Parallel Amplified Bible).

God also declares: “Comfort, comfort My people, says your God. Speak tenderly to the heart of Jerusalem, and cry to her that her time of service and her warfare are ended, that [her punishment is accepted and] her iniquity is pardoned, that she has received [punishment] from the Lord’s hand double for all her sins.”

We are living in a world gone berserk with anger and rage. “Why do the nations rage?” (Psalm 2:1). Answer – because they don’t know the true God, and are in rebellion against His laws and teachings and the true way of life and peace!

Isaiah wrote: “A voice of one who cries: Prepare in the wilderness the way of the Lord [clear away the obstacles]; make straight and smooth a highway for our God. . . . And the glory (majesty and splendor) of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together; for the mouth of the Lord has spoken it” (Isaiah 40:3-5).

The Messiah is coming very SOON! Its time to prepare to MEET Him! “Surely the Lord will do nothing without revealing His secret to His servants the prophets” (Amos 3:7). The purpose of this magazine is to warn the world of what lies ahead, and to help prepare people to get ready to meet the Messiah, when He returns to restore all things (Acts 3:19-21), put an end to wars, and usher in the Kingdom of God! The prophet Amos declared, “Prepare to meet your God, O Israel” (Amos 4:12). No matter is more urgent, today!

Our Perilous World – the Growing Threat

With the terrorist attacks in Paris, France, and San Bernardino, California, the ominous threat of radical Muslim invasion and terrorism is striking fear into the hearts of Americans. President Obama blames in on the press and the media, but everybody knows better. It is real. It is palpable. It is dangerous, outrageous, and terrifying.

Where did America go wrong? Why is racial violence making a comeback? Why is Congress so weak and impotent? Why are so many people becoming deranged, delusional, and mentally ill? What has happened to plain ordinary decency decorum, and common sense?

America and the western world has lost its way, become confused, blinded by ignorance and a lack of the true knowledge of prophetic vision and insight. The downward trend has been growing over the decades since World War II, and escalating madly since 2008 when the Obama administration came on the scene. Here are the facts – it’s time to face the truth!

America Destroyed by Lack of True Prophetic Knowledge

The world is careening to destruction on a massive scale. Panic and hysteria grip the minds of millions. Terrorism explodes in Europe, and is beginning to strike the United States. Where did we go wrong? How did the fanatical Muslim jihad religion make such a successful assault on the Western world? What does the future hold for all of us? How can we avert disaster?

William F. Dankenbring

What started out as a humanitarian gesture to alleviate the suffering of hordes of refugees fleeing wars and other related calamities is now turning into a nightmare for the host nations. So much so that the facilities and resources required to sustain these operations have been stretched to breaking points. Public support and goodwill are now fast waning and at their lowest level so far.

Germany is a case in point and perhaps a classic case study of this ongoing trend. The Gatestone Institute's Soeren Kern has in a recent report noted that Germany's Muslim population is set to nearly quadruple to an astonishing 20 million within the next five years, based on a demographic forecast by Bavarian lawmakers. Most of the asylum seekers are young Muslim males between 21-35. Currently, 5.8 million Muslims already live in Germany.

The current rate of 10,000 refugees a day coming into Germany is certainly nothing to sneeze at. The German government expects the asylum seekers numbers in 2015 to hit the 1.5 million mark, and possibly even more in 2016. And this is even before factoring in family reunifications, after which the numbers are expected to 'rise exponentially' to totally unsustainable levels.

Chancellor Angela Merkel's open-door immigration policy is facing a stern stress test and could eventually result in a political fall-out. Gideon Rachman, writing for the Financial Times predicts that Merkel would not survive it:

"The refugee crisis that has broken over Germany is likely to spell the end of the Merkel era. With the country in line to receive more than a million asylum-seekers this year alone, public anxiety is mounting — and so is criticism of Ms. Merkel, from within her own party. Some of her close political allies acknowledge that it is now distinctly possible that the chancellor will have to leave office, before the next general election in 2017. Even if she sees out a full term, the notion of a fourth Merkel administration, widely discussed a few months ago, now seems improbable...”

Uwe Brandl, president of the Bavarian Association of Municipalities says the surge in Germany's Muslim population represents a demographic shift of epic proportions, one that will change the face of Germany forever, "but we are just standing by, watching it happen." Brandl warned that untrammled migration will entail heavy costs for German taxpayers and may also lead to social unrest.

The Immigration “Trojan Horse”

Hungarian Prime Minister Viktor Orbán equally expressed alarm in his description to the threat to safety and stability: "We are in deep trouble. The migration crisis has the potential to destabilize governments, countries and the whole European continent....What we have been facing is not a refugee crisis. This is a migratory movement composed of economic migrants, refugees and also foreign fighters. This is an uncontrolled and unregulated process.... I also want to underline that there is an unlimited source of supply of people, after Syria, Iraq, Pakistan, Afghanistan, Africa is now also on the move. The dimension and the volume of the danger is well above our expectations....”

It’s becoming clearer that the immigration crisis is now providing the perfect Trojan horse with which religious extremists will easily infiltrate and destroy Europe from within. (Prophecy News Watch, Tom Olago, Nov.11, 2015).

Today people in America and the world have turned their back on God and need to find their way back to Him. Things are being turned upside down in all areas which is causing chaos worldwide. ISIS jihadists maintain a stronghold based in Iraq and claim credit for random acts of terror throughout European countries and the Middle East. War continues to be waged in the Sudan and Syria. Massive immigration is flooding Europe and the Obama Administration has agreed to bring 200,000 more Muslims into America’s borders by 2016. The majority of the immigrants fleeing are Islamic young men. Islam is diabolically opposed to Christianity on which our country was founded.

Charles Krauthammer, noted columnist, says in “Obama’s Phony War”— “With a stunning tone, detachment and lassitude, Obama compounded his errors by impatience and irritability at the very suggestion that his Syrian strategy has failed and caused a backlash of migration into Europe which is threatening the entire stability of the entire continent of Europe.” Obama’s policies have caused that and now he is saying that America needs to bring over a 100,000 to 200,000 of these immigrants into our country by 2016 – 2017. The only time Obama showed any passion in Turkey during his speech was in denouncing Republicans for hard-heartedness toward Muslim refugees.

Does this once again prove that Obama in his heart-of-hearts, who grew up in Indonesia and was trained as a Muslim—who has publicly stated the most beautiful sound he has ever heard on earth is the Muslim call to prayer—is still a Muslim? The rest of the speech was mere pretense and petulance, dismissing criticisms of his Syria policy as his critics — “just popping off at the mouth.” Both Democrats and Republicans are confused—have turned away from God.

Krauthammer continues. “Obama brags about his 65 nation coalition to defeat ISIS and on his war against ISIS. One of the 65 is the nation of Luxembourg. Are these nations a real asset and able to engage in fighting ISIS? Absolutely not! There seems to be an absence of passion and urgency in his commitment against ISIS.”

The air campaign over Syria averaged over seven strikes daily. In operation Desert Storm, America flew 1,140 strikes a day fighting Saddam Hussein. Obama is not fighting ISIS, because he created ISIS. Evidence is mounting that Obama is behind the crisis in the Middle-East that is creating instability and destruction.

Krauthammer says, “Obama’s priorities are else-where. He is not worried about Muslim extremism and he will not even use the word in the same sentence, or in any paragraph. Obama says his priorities are climate change and closing Guantanamo in Cuba where multiple Muslim terrorists are being held as prisoners.”

Five top terrorist commanders and Guantanamo detainees have already been released from Guantanamo in exchange for U.S. soldier Bergdahl, a prisoner of war defector who turned Muslim.

The Dance of Death

There is a dance of death in the West and actual death in the Middle East, courtesy of the Islamofascists. Meanwhile, the Caesar in the White House entertains himself with a thousand sycophants, partying on behind closed doors as if the Islamofascist hand will not touch him. He thinks he’s protected from this new plague, the Black Death of radical Islam.

We’re facing something the West hasn’t had to deal with since the wars of religion in the 16th and 17th centuries. When those religious wars ended in one place, they began in another. They lasted for over one hundred years.

The same thing is happening right now. The radical Muslims are on the warpath and they are against everyone else. They are against Muslims who are not as fanatical. They are against the members of all other religions. They think they are going to take us back to some pristine religious period in human history that never actually occurred.

It’s all complete rubbish. These “faith warriors” live lower than the pigs they despise. They kidnap and rape 8-year-old girls and say the Quran authorizes it. They’re not purists. They’re killers. They’re Nazis in head scarfs. They aren’t leading a religious revival. They’re trying to take us back to a state of barbarism that has been extinct for 1,200 years.

This is a barbaric revolution, and we have a man in the White House who denies its existence. But whether he chooses to acknowledge it or not, it's going to continue until someone puts a stop to it.

Jonathan Sacks called the fight against radical Islam the "defining conflict of the next generation." He likened radical Islam to a starfish. When you cut off a spider's head, it dies. But when you cut off the leg of a starfish, the starfish can regenerate it. Radical political Islam is a starfish. If you defeat ISIS or al-Qaeda, they will merely come back under another name.

Why would any government bring in unvetted Muslim immigrants at a time like this? It would seem that only an insane prince would do this to his country. But Obama is not insane. He's stoned. He's stoned on the orthodoxy of the progressive left. Obama and his supporters are drunk on their ideology. They think they're going to create a progressive utopia by continuing their attack on all Western values.

This is precisely how great civilizations of the past declined and eventually fell. They rejected the values that made them great and degenerated into narcissism and selfishness. They kept on partying until they were too weak to defend themselves. Then, the unthinkable happened. They fell. (Michael Savage, "Dance of Death in the West," Front Page, Nov.14, 2015).

The Beginning of World War III

With the events we are watching unfold in Europe and much of the Middle East; with the constant attacks on people of many other nations, including the United States, there is concern and discussion in our country and indeed, all over the world about the war being waged by, "Muslim Radicals" on behalf of their Religion of Islam. This is a war against all people who are not of the Muslim faith or who do not support Islam and Sharia Law. Make no mistake, we are under attack by Muslims.

If anyone speaks of the Muslims who are waging this war without including the qualifying terms "Islamic Radicals," they are chastised rather harshly for not being politically correct. Have you ever wondered why the so called moderate Muslims, who may not embrace terrorism, do not speak up in outrage against and put a stop to what is being waged in the name of Islam? Those who are waging this war of murder and other atrocities are devout Muslims, true to their faith and the teachings of their Koran. They are indeed radical because the Religion of Islam is a Radical Religion. Islamic Radicals and the Religion of Islam are one and the same. To be a "moderate" Muslim only means you are not a true and devout Muslim, guided in all things by the teachings and commands of the Koran.

Islam is most definitely NOT a religion of peace. It is in fact a religion of submission. The war Islamists are waging against mankind will only be won when all people submit to Islam and Sharia Law through either conversion or death. The truth is that ALL MUSLIMS WHO ARE DEDICATED TO THEIR FAITH AND THE TEACHINGS OF THE KORAN HAVE AS THEIR GOAL THE TOTAL DESTRUCTION OF ALL NATIONS WITH SECULAR, CONSTITUTIONAL FORMS OF GOVERNMENT.

Islam is not only a religion but a form of government with its own law called Sharia, a very evil thing in itself. It is the only religion in the world which has an overriding goal to control and dominate all human beings on earth. There is no other religion which seeks absolute power and authority over all mankind. And that power shall be obtained by means of deadly force if that is what it takes.

World War III has begun! WE ARE AT WAR. When our nation is at war, who is constitutionally, the Supreme Commander of all efforts to defeat our enemies? It is our president.

Unfortunately, no American President has ever been so partial to Muslims and Islam as President Barack Obama. He will not refer to our attackers as what they are. He cannot bring himself to say the words, "Islamic terrorism." What does it say about our chances of survival in the United States when the Commander in Chief refuses to publicly recognize who we are fighting?

Every world leader of any standing has declared that we are confronted by the actions of Islamic Terrorists except one – President Obama of the United States.

The events we are watching unfold in Europe and the Middle East, the beheadings of Americans by the Islamic State and other such events of murder and mayhem have taken place without our president so much as naming the enemy. This has aroused concerns in many that President Obama might in fact be a Muslim. There is an Islamic doctrine known as "taqiyya" that permits Muslims to deny they are Muslim if it would be dangerous to admit the truth and to knowingly deceive infidels (anyone who is not a Muslim). Ask yourself if you believe Barack Obama to be capable of lying, or of being deceitful to achieve an end.

World War III Has Begun!

Pope Francis, referring to the growing barbarism and genocidal fury of Islamic jihadists and specifically ISIS, eerily predicted months ago that a "piecemeal World War III" was emerging, evidenced by ever-mounting "crimes, massacres, destruction."

World leaders agreed – from Jordan's King Abdullah, who called the fight against ISIS a "Third World War" and urged all nations to help neutralize the threat posed by the metastasizing terror army, to former Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev, to former Ukrainian ambassador Yuri Shcherbak – all warning that we are literally staring World War III in the face.

In the U.S., clear-headed pundits echoed the warnings: "World War III has begun," opined top-rated radio talker Mark Levin. "I sincerely believe it. ... It hasn't begun like any other war, but it's begun. ... and I believe we're going to be attacked.” Newt Gingrich added, “The real war is worldwide and the real enemy is Islamic supremacy in all its forms. The center of gravity,” added the former House Speaker, “is not Syria. The center of gravity is the Internet.” Glenn Beck agreed we're looking at World War III, but warned that that “Nobody will recognize it yet. ... Just like we were at the beginning of World War II when they invaded Poland. We are entering those times – we just don't know it yet.”

Interestingly, most of these various WWII predictions came before ISIS downed a Russian passenger jet killing all on board, before the horrific Friday the 13th terror attacks that ravaged Paris, and before ISIS' promises to wreak similar havoc in America, especially in Washington and New York. They came before hordes of Muslim “refugees” – most of them military-aged men rather than “widows and orphans” – could be seen streaming in biblical numbers across Europe to Germany and other nations, and before Obama announced plans to bring tens of thousands of Syrian Muslims to America.

Indeed, they came before revelations that ISIS already had hundreds of jihadists, terror cells and active recruiters operating within the U.S., and before the recent Islamic terrorist massacre in, of all places, San Bernardino, California.

With the peoples of the West finally waking up to the full-scale Islamic war being waged against them – via open warfare, terrorism, ideological indoctrination, aggressive recruitment and demographic invasion – there is yet one more problem to confront: Barack Obama, president of the United States, leader of the free world, commander-in-chief of the world's most powerful military, who is not merely AWOL in this war. He is widely regarded as delusional at best – and at worst, aiding America's enemies.

For not only has Obama brought ISIS into existence by disastrously creating a power vacuum in Iraq after the allies' victory, and not only has he refused to destroy ISIS ever since. But his solution to the rapidly advancing Islamic invaders is to mount a weak and halfhearted military campaign of pin-prick strikes on ISIS, while denying the very existence of the larger global threat of expansionist Islam, thus allowing the cancer to continue to metastasize throughout the world.

Is Barack Obama a Closet Muslim?

Barack Obama has never made a secret of the fact that both his father and stepfather were Muslims. It is well documented that when he lived in Indonesia he attended a madrassa – a school devoted to the teaching of Islam – until he was ten years of age.

Many of us have seen his interview with George Stephanopoulos, when Obama said “John McCain has not talked about my Muslim faith” and Stephanopoulos was quick to suggest to Obama that he really meant to say his “Christian faith.” Obama quickly responded, “Yes my Christian faith.”

Can you imagine any Christian you know, under any circumstances accidentally calling himself a Muslim?

Obama has publicly referred to the Muslim call to prayer as “one of the prettiest sounds on earth at sunset.” He has recited its opening lines with a perfect Arabic accent saying “Allah is supreme. I witness that there is no God but Allah.”

Is Barack Obama a Muslim? Obama grew up as a Muslim, his father and step father were Muslim, he attended a Muslim school in Indonesia while growing up as a young boy, and has said no sound is prettier to him than the call to prayer by a Muslim cleric. He has ridiculed the Bible, both the Old Testament and the New Testament, and has spoken of the “holy Koran” often in speeches. There is no doubt in my mind that he is a Muslim loving fanatic, and welcomes those of the Muslim religion into the United States as “refugees,” but refuses to allow similar access to Chaldean Christians fleeing the Middle East. (WND,

Danger to the West

What we are witnessing today in France, other countries of Europe, Australia, Iraq, and Syria will spread into the United States. WE ABSOLUTELY MUST STOP THINKING, “THAT CAN’T HAPPEN HERE.” I assure you if we don’t enlighten ourselves and stop allowing our lives to be ruled by political correctness, it can and surely WILL happen here. The issue is now front and center in our current presidential race. It is time to consider the threat posed to our nation and our liberty.

The danger facing America, today, is monumental – enormous! Why are we facing all these escalating dangers NOW?

America is in the Danger Zone

Over the past fifty years, America has rebelled against God and crossed all of these dangerous biblical boundaries:

- 1962 – Engel v. Vitale: the removal of Prayer in public schools by the Supreme Court.
- 1963 – Abington School District v. Schempp: the removal of Bible reading in public schools by the Supreme Court.
- 1973 – Rowe v. Wade legalized abortions by the Supreme Court. Since America has performed over 55 million abortions. Presently about one million abortions are occurring per year in America.
- 2013 – United States v. Windsor: the case that the Supreme Court struck down the Defense of Marriage Act (DOMA). DOMA stated that one man should be married to one woman. DOMA was biblically supported. We read in Genesis 2:24, “Therefore a man shall leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife, and they shall become one flesh.”

- 2015 – Obergefell v. Hodges: the Supreme Court case that ruled in favor of Same Sex Marriages.

This is an abomination in God’s sight! We read, “Because of this, God gave them over to shameful lusts. Even their women exchanged natural sexual relations for unnatural ones” (Romans 1:26, NIV). “In the same way the men also abandoned natural relations with women and were inflamed with lust for one another. Men committed shameful acts with other men, and received in themselves the due penalty for their error” (verse 27).

- 2015 – The present White House Administration has turned its back on Israel. Obama believes the Iran nuclear deal is good, but Israeli Prime Minister Netanyahu believes it’s the worst deal imaginable.

The Word of God declares, “But if you do not do so [obey God in faith], then take note, you have sinned against the LORD, and be sure your sin will find you out” (Numbers 32:23). The NIV has it, ““But if you won't do so, look out! You will be sinning against the LORD. Be certain of this, that your sin will catch up to you!”

The Lord has provided ample warnings to Americans that the country is headed for destruction. These forewarnings have come in the forms of remedial judgments, prophetic voices, and ultimately by giving them the ungodly leaders they deserve. For instance, U.S. President Barack Hussein Obama is the most pro-abortion, pro-homosexual, and anti-Israel president in America’s history! The fact that he was reelected for a second term evidences the spiritual and moral bankruptcy of the nation!

The Point of No Return

A nation can reach a point of no return, when the Lord determines that its destruction cannot be averted. This happened to the Southern Kingdom of Judah about 2700 years ago during the time of the Hebrew prophet Jeremiah. Three times he was essentially told not to waste time praying for the people of Judah.

“Therefore do not pray for this people, nor lift up a cry or prayer for them, nor make intercession to Me; for I will not hear you. Do you not see what they do in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?” (Jer.7:16-17).

Most Americans, British and other peoples today will not receive correction. God says of them, “This is a nation that does not obey the voice of the LORD their God nor receive correction. Truth has perished and has been cut off from their mouth” (Jer.7:28).

God says, “Will they fall and not rise? Will one turn away and not return? Why has this people slidden back . . . in a perpetual backsliding? They hold fast to deceit, they refuse to return . . . No man repented of his wickedness, saying, ‘What have I done?’ Everyone turned to his own course, as a horse rushes to battle” (Jer.8:4-6).

“Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? No! They were not at all ashamed, nor did they know how to blush” Jer.8:12).

Therefore, God says, “So do not pray for this people, or lift up a cry or prayer for them; for I will not hear them in the time that they cry out to Me because of their trouble” (Jer.11:14).

A third time God told Jeremiah his servant, “Do not pray for this people, for their good” (Jer.14:11). Three times means it is settled. The people have gone too far. Punishment and judgment must follow! God says, “When they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt offering and grain offering, I will not accept them. But I will consume them by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence” (verse 12).

After Jeremiah received his instruction not to pray for the people of Judah, he forewarned them of their forthcoming judgment. The people would be deported for seventy years into Babylonian captivity and the land would remain desolate during that period.

If ancient Judah would have repented, Almighty God would certainly have relented from judgment.

The same lesson applies to America and Great Britain and modern Israel, today. The question for Americans to ask is: IS America going to repent, as a nation, before it is too late? Is there a national repentance forthcoming in the near future?

If America, like Judah, has passed the point of no return and has no national repentance in store for its future, then Americans need to prepare for a horrendous holocaust, invasion, catastrophe and historical collapse as a nation, such as has never before occurred on such a massive scale!

The prophet Hosea warned the Northern Kingdom of Israel that it would be destroyed. This destruction was caused by the Assyrian empire and occurred in 721-718 B.C. America is facing similar judgment, today!

Hosea urged his fellow Israelites beforehand to become informed so that they could get prepared for the forthcoming destruction. God Almighty warned the people, “My people are DESTROYED for lack of knowledge. Because you have rejected knowledge [of God and His Word], I also will reject you from being priest for Me; because you have forgotten the LAW of your God, I also will forget your children” (Hosea 4:6).

Prophetic information about the destruction of the Northern Kingdom of Israel was abundantly available to the people of Israel, not only from his teachings, but also those of the prophets Amos, Isaiah and others. It was not the Lord's fault if His people didn't get the message or pay attention to the warnings!

Hosea 4:1 informs that his message of judgment was for all the inhabitants of Israel, whether they had faith in God or not. Hosea 4:14 warned that everyone, believers and unbelievers, who lacked understanding were going to be trampled in the dust.

Since the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, Almighty God has been warning Americans about the dangers that lie ahead, but are we rejecting those warnings? What about you?

Without Prophetic Vision People Perish!

It's high time that Christians begin to take seriously the imminent prophecies of the Bible. They need to understand them and then ask the Lord for protection, direction and guidance in their lives. Ask for opportunities to share the knowledge you learn from this process with others. This is vital knowledge that will help the people of God through the coming time of chaos and worldwide calamity. This knowledge is founded on the prophetic word of God.

Solomon wrote, "Without vision [prophetic knowledge] the people perish" (Prov.29:18). The New King James Version says, "Where there is no [prophetic] revelation, the people cast off restraint [they do whatever comes "natural" – they follow their lusts and evil desires]; but happy is he who keeps the law."

The Lord knew that our, generation, the final one before the coming of the Messiah, would be an information saturated world – that the total fund of knowledge would grow exponentially in our time. Knowledge would explode exponentially (Dan.12:1-4). But we also need lots of spiritual information in order to live intelligent lives during these turbulent end times. Therefore, He imparted prophetic knowledge ages ago through Christ, the apostles and the prophets.

As Amos declared, "Surely the Lord GOD does nothing, unless He reveals His secret to His servants the prophets. A lion has roared! Who will not fear? The Lord GOD has spoken! Who can but prophesy" (Amos 3:7-8).

Now more than ever before in America, the primary individual focus needs to be to repent of personal sins and wrong-doing, and to return to God and His laws and His Word!

Mass Delusion in America

From alleged widespread racism to "Islamophobia" to "gender reassignment," the way the American left currently portrays many of today's top issues is not only wrong, says bestselling author David Kupelian, it is an attempt to forcibly replace reality with a series of coveted delusions – commonly called "narratives."

Kupelian, whose latest book is "The Snapping of the American Mind," made his comments during a fast-paced drive-time interview with popular San Francisco KSFO radio talker Brian Sussman.

"The statistics are simply mind-melting," said Kupelian, referring to the astronomical levels of addiction, depression and family breakdown in today's America, which he ties in his book to the left's ongoing "fundamental transformation of America." "One hundred and thirty million people are dependent on legal or illegal mind-altering substances. We're not talking 130,000. This sounds like all the adults, almost – it's like [we're] a nation of addicts!"

As part of the progressive-left influence that Kupelian says is so adversely affecting the nation, Americans are being intimidated, bullied and seduced into accepting a whole slew of false "narratives" as though they represented reality, said Kupelian.

A "narrative," he said, is just "a nice name for a ... mass delusion."

Kupelian rattled off a few examples of present-day false media narratives:

"Faisal Mohammad wasn't motivated by jihad."

"Bruce Jenner is a woman."

"Michael Brown in Ferguson, Missouri, was a victim of racist police – even though it's proven that he was a predator," Kupelian added. "He was a punk on drugs who had just knocked off a convenience store and he tried to kill a cop, to grab his gun!" But "it doesn't matter" to the left, said Kupelian. "You still hear about Ferguson and Michael Brown" as though the mythical "gentle giant" was a victim of trigger-happy, racist cops.

Another delusion-based narrative, said Kupelian, is that "Islam is a religion of peace. I have to tell you, I have about 100 family members who were killed by jihadists during the Armenian Genocide," said Kupelian. "Islam has not been a religion of peace for the last 14 centuries. And it doesn't show any signs of beginning now."

"Where is this all coming from?" Kupelian asked rhetorically.

"We don't live in a vacuum. ... I'm saying we have a culture and a presidency in which basically we're taught there is no God, there is no right and wrong and the biblical morals that this country did pretty well with for several centuries are oppressive and racist and we need to get rid of them!" He added, "There's a side of us that feels like this is liberation, but there's a price to pay. We're paying the price now."

Indeed, American politics has become so unhinged, he said, it is hard for normal Americans to even process what is happening.

"Hillary Clinton should be in prison, he noted, adding, "We have this socialist who, God bless Donald Trump, he referred to Bernie Sanders as a 'communist maniac.'"

He then told Sussman: "I defy your listeners to go to the CPUSA website, Communist Party USA [cpusa.org] ... Tell me the difference between the communist – forget socialism, the Communist Party USA – and the Democrat Party. Everything [on the CPUSA site] is 'war on women,' 'racism,' all the same stuff" over which today's Democrat Party obsesses, he said.

The result of this political and moral insanity, Kupelian believes, is a kind of massive psychological strain imposed on Americans who find it difficult to live on a diet of lies.

America the Bizarre

Dave Kupellian writes, “AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL HAS BECOME AMERICA THE BIZARRE. [Emphasis mine.] Government openly defies the law, Christians are prosecuted as criminals, children ‘transition’ to the opposite sex, the president supports our enemies –and 130 million Americans depend on mind-altering substances just to get through life. Turbocharged by the Obama presidency, long-coalescing forces of the political and progressive cultural Left are bringing about their much-heralded ‘fundamental transformation of America.’ Today the Left which dominates America’s key institutions, from the news and entertainment media, to education, to government itself—is accomplishing much more than just enlarging government, redistributing wealth, and de-Christianizing the culture.

“With the Left’s wild celebration of sexual anarchy, comes its intimidating culture of political correctness, and its incomprehension of the fundamental sacredness of human life. What few realize about this transformation is that the sheer stress of daily living in today’s upside down America is literally driving millions of Americans to the point of illness—widespread dependency, debauchery, family breakdown, crime, corruption, addiction, despair, and suicide.”

Surveying this growing chaos in American society, Kupelian exposes both the utopian revolutionaries and their extraordinary methods that have turned America’s most cherished values literally upside down—“to the point that madness is celebrated and normality demonized.”

In The Snapping of the American Mind,” said Kupelian, “I’m connecting the dots between that big picture” of the Obama-left's “fundamental transformation” of America “and the individual picture of the wretchedness and brokenness and pathology of the 130 million Americans that are dependent on [toxic] substances.” Kupelian declared that leftist deception and intimidation “is actually driving good, unsuspecting Americans over the edge to depression, anger, mental illness, addiction, family breakdown – all the pathology and the wretchedness we see on the individual level which we don’t really attach to politics so much.”

Kupelian's message is deadly serious. And for those who actually want to help troubled people, he has simple advice – stick to reality. He affirmed the biological impossibility of “sex change” – or to use today's euphemism, “gender reassignment” – citing the finding of the former psychiatrist-in-chief at Johns Hopkins Hospital that changing genders is “biologically impossible.”

“This is a controversial thing to say, especially in San Francisco,” Kupelian advised. “You cannot transition from one sex to the other. An adult male has about 37 trillion cells. Every one of them is permanently branded with Y [male] chromosomes.”

Kupelian said going along with transgenderism and other absurdities amounts to encouraging mental illness. As he put it, if a pathologically skinny anorexic woman thinks she is fat – a common syndrome among anorexics – “we don't need to pretend she is fat.”

David Kupelian says, “The Snapping of the American Mind, is my metaphor for what we've lived through since the 1960s, meaning, we don't really understand what has happened to us and what has been leading us and where it's leading us to”, he said. “We've just been changing very rapidly over the past few decades, and most people don't really understand why.” The American people largely resisted major leftwing changes, he said, but the election of Barack Obama changed that. “It is all a big blur now. Pause a minute and consider that America's most vexing geopolitical problems in the ‘Godless’ Modern Age have revolved around two malignant and virulently expansionist ideologies—Marxism, and sharia Islam. Yet for some reason Americans elected as their leader someone with a strong affinity for both.”

“It is a matter of public record, Obama was schooled as a Muslim in Indonesia, followed by decades steeped in Marxism and Far-Left radicalism –a worldview he has never renounced. But we did not hear this from the big media, who instead anointed Obama as a political messiah, comparing him with Jesus and God, in what became a full-fledged cult of personality, complete with people fainting right and left at his rallies. Three weeks after Obama's inauguration in January 2009, Newsweek's cover headlined, ‘We Are All Socialists Now.’ Congressional leaders Nancy Pelosi and Harry Reid abandoned efforts to fix the economy and instead maniacally pursued their plan to force the holy grail of socialism – government run health care – down the throat of an unwilling America. Millions of Americans openly objected to the Affordable Care Act which forced them to lose their health insurance, but that was just the beginning.”

Since then, crisis after crisis and scandal after scandal piled up as we behold our leaders in power essentially enthralled with the core ideology of Marxism, socialism, or collectivism.

Is Obama Himself Delusional?

“Is Barack Obama delusional?” That is a serious question. That's how Bill O'Reilly led off his Fox News show, addressing Obama's press conference in Turkey in which the president defended his disastrously ineffective policies for dealing with the rapidly metastasizing terror army ISIS which, after last week's hellish Paris attacks, vows Washington, D.C., is next.

After the commercial break, O'Reilly started in again: "Is President Barack Obama delusional about ISIS?" O'Reilly then interviewed Charles Krauthammer.

Responded Krauthammer, a Pulitzer-winning columnist and former psychiatrist: "Judging from the press conference, there are several explanations for that appalling performance; the kindest is that he's delusional."

Krauthammer explained: "He said on Friday that ISIS was not gaining in strength, [though] even his own Dianne Feinstein said essentially it's a delusion. Of course it's gaining in strength ... But the reason that 'delusion' is the kindest [explanation], is I think the more likely explanation is, he knows that opposition is weakening, he knows that ISIS is strong and that it's a threat, but in the end, he doesn't think it matters. He's never thought the war on terror was important or existential. ..."

O'Reilly replied, "But how can you say that he doesn't understand that millions of people – millions of people – are either dying, being dislocated, being tortured, being wounded ... and you still, Charles Krauthammer, say he doesn't care? It doesn't mean anything to him?"

Krauthammer asserted: "There's a difference between millions of people suffering and an existential threat to the West, which is what it is, and which is what he denies."

A little later in Fox's primetime lineup, former CIA operative Mike Baker, a guest on "Hannity," described Obama's actions and attitude with regard to radical Islam as "surreal."

Then Hannity, in an exchange with psychology expert Dr. Gina Loudon about the Paris terror attacks, observed: "Some good people have a hard time grasping that these people could go into a crowded theater and start shooting innocent men, women and children. That's just evil, in our time. This president's not recognizing, won't recognize – it's pathological that he won't recognize radical Islam."

"It's absolutely pathological," responded Loudon. "And it's not just pathological; it's stupid and it's dangerous."

"Delusional." "Surreal." "Doesn't care." "Pathological." "Stupid." "Dangerous." That's America's 44th president they're talking about.

For the past seven years, sane Americans have been trying to explain Obama, evoking various hypotheses – including the possibility that he's a genuine sociopath, that is, without conscience.

Fox pundit, long-time ABC News personality and Pulitzer-winning columnist George Will described “Barack Obama’s intellectual sociopathy – his often breezy and sometimes loutish indifference to truth.”

Here’s a typical description of “sociopathy,” so let’s see how it fits: “Sociopaths are often well-liked because of their charm and high charisma, but they do not usually care about other people. They think mainly of themselves and often blame others for the things that they do. They have a complete disregard for rules and lie constantly. They seldom feel guilt or learn from punishments.” Seems like a pretty good fit, but let’s continue.

“One veteran forensic psychiatrist I know – an expert witness in thousands of court cases, whose expertise is sizing up criminal/antisocial people and determining what makes them tick – has described Obama to me in terms of ‘malignant narcissistic personality disorder.’ The modifier ‘malignant’ signifies the version of ‘narcissistic personality disorder’ that may cross over into criminality, he explained.

“He reviewed with me a list of some of the major symptoms of NPD, comparing them with Obama’s behavior as president. Among the key markers: 1) a grandiose view of one’s achievements (everything with Obama is ‘historic’), 2) an utter inability to handle criticism (almost everyone criticizing Obama or his policies is attacked as selfish, ‘partisan’ or racist) and 3) lack of genuine empathy. (Obama’s designation of the apocalyptic Paris terror attacks as a ‘setback’ in his foreign policy was reminiscent of his televised speech on the day of the Fort Hood terror attack. With the entire nation reeling in shock and yearning for strong, reassuring words from their commander in chief, Obama instead engaged in small talk and an inane ‘shout-out’ for two full minutes before even mentioning that the worst terrorist attack on American soil since 9/11 had just occurred hours earlier.)”

Here’s how psychiatrist M. Scott Peck, M.D., explains people like Obama in his classic best-seller, “People of the Lie”: He says malignant narcissism is characterized by an unsubmitted will. All adults who are mentally healthy submit themselves one way or another to something higher than themselves, be it God or truth or love or some other ideal. They do what God wants them to do rather than what they would desire. “Thy will, not mine, be done,” the God-submitted person says. They believe in what is true rather than what they would like to be true.

In summary, to a greater or lesser degree, all mentally healthy individuals submit themselves to the demands of their own conscience. Not so the evil, however. In the conflict between their guilt [i.e., conscience] and their will, it is the guilt that must go and the will that must win.

With the catastrophic Obama-era decline of America now threatening to spin entirely out of control, many are again straining to understand what on earth is really going on inside Obama’s mind:

- Some, as previously mentioned, cite the disturbing degree to which Obama manifests full-blown symptoms of narcissism and/or sociopathy.
- Some cite his barely disguised Marxist worldview (Fox pundit Monica Crowley recently said on the radio, “Obama’s not a Democrat. He’s a Marxist revolutionary”), with its obsession with radical redistribution of wealth and power. Marxism, by definition, justifies as “moral” not merely lying, but ruthless suppression of dissent, violence and tyranny – as long as these measures advance the glorious (though delusional) utopian cause. “Exhibit A” for this point would be the entire 20th century.
- Some cite Obama’s childhood and upbringing. His Marxist-atheist-alcoholic-bigamist Kenyan father abandoned him, his Islamic stepfather raised him as a Muslim in Indonesia, his mother essentially abandoned him, and his most influential mentor as a young teenager was Frank Marshall Davis, a card-carrying member of the Communist Party USA, a pornographer and admitted sexual abuser of minors.
- Some cite Obama’s religious background – his 20-year affiliation with his “spiritual mentor,” the Rev. Jeremiah Wright, who preached raw hatred of America, capitalism and white people, and whose “black liberation theology” gospel amounts to Afro-centric Marxism dressed up with cherry-picked Bible verses.
- Some cite his background in “Chicago politics” – a euphemism for wall-to-wall corruption and criminality. Indeed, the state of Illinois, where a staggering total of four recent governors – Otto Kerner, Dan Walker, George Ryan and Rod Blagojevich – have gone to prison for corruption, remains a political cesspool to this day, as confirmed by a study from the University of Illinois at Chicago’s political science department. Obama is a product of this legendarily corrupt “Chicago machine” and played the game ruthlessly while rising in the ranks there.
- Some cite Obama’s education, the most important part of which, by his own admission, came via Saul Alinsky. During the 2008 campaign, Obama said of his years steeped in the Chicago Marxist’s revolutionary “community organizing” methods: “It was that education that was seared into my brain. It was the best education I ever had, better than anything I got at Harvard Law School.”

So, let’s take stock and analyze Obama’s character formation: abandonment by his father, early Muslim training, toxic teen influences, hardcore Marxist indoctrination and Alinsky training, drug abuse (“Choom Gang”), association with criminals (Tony Rezko) and terrorists (William Ayers), racist religious affiliation (Jeremiah Wright), extreme political ambition and probable mental illness/disorder.

That is quite a cocktail that forms the current U.S. president’s worldview and sensibilities!

The question is not whether Obama is delusional or not – that is undeniable. The question is, in what frame of reference is he delusional – the narrow one Krauthammer cites, regarding Obama’s denial that radical Islam poses an existential threat to America and the world? Or the wider context of the rest of life? For when we widen our scope, we are forced to acknowledge that Obama gravitates toward evil and delusion not just with regard to the jihad threat, but in virtually every area:

He wants to force 15-year-old girls to shower naked with boys who delusionally believe they’re girls.

He intentionally allows our nation to be overrun with illegal aliens and legal “refugees” from cultures that hate America (today’s headline says of the Syrian refugees already in the U.S., 2,098 are Muslims and 53 are Christians).

He annually releases tens of thousands of convicted criminal illegal aliens – we’re talking murderers, rapists and drug dealers – back onto American streets.

He’s a radical proponent of what can only be called infanticide, the “aborting” of fully formed, full-term healthy human babies.

In every area, Obama demonstrates an unfortunate affinity for that which normal people would describe as destructive, corrupt, evil.

Whatever the ultimate explanation of Obama’s delusional presidency, he demonstrates at every turn a remarkable attraction for that which is destructive and corrupting to human life, that is, “evil.” And he is dragging America – and increasingly the world – through hell in search of it, which he somehow, however inexplicably, sees as good. (see David Kupelian, “Whistleblower,” Nov.17, 2015).

Is Obama Dangerous to America?

As President Obama continues his push to bring more Syrian refugees to America even in the aftermath of the Paris terror attacks by the Islamic State, talk-radio host Rush Limbaugh says the U.S. president is now a threat.

“I’m telling you Obama has become dangerous,” declared Limbaugh on his national broadcast Wednesday. “Where do you think the modern-day, 19- [or] 20-year-old terrorist comes from, Mr. President?”

“We can’t take the world here. There is no right to immigrate. We just can’t accept every human being suffering in this world in the United States.”

Obama in the Philippines on Wednesday slammed Republicans who are pushing efforts to bar Syrian refugees from entering the U.S., calling their words offensive and insisting “it needs to stop.”

“Apparently they’re scared of widows and orphans coming into the United States of America as part of our tradition of compassion,” Obama said. “At first they were worried about the press being too tough on ‘em during debates. Now they’re worried about three-year-old orphans. That doesn’t sound very tough to me. They’ve been playing on fear in order to try to score political points or to advance their campaigns. And it’s irresponsible. And it’s contrary to who we are. And it needs to stop, because the world is watching.”

The president claimed tough-talking rhetoric from the GOP could be used as a recruitment tool by ISIS. He also indicated the American process for screening refugees for U.S. entry is strict, noting the nation doesn’t make good decisions “based on hysteria.”

“We are not well served when in response to a terrorist attack we descend into fear and panic,” Obama said.

Limbaugh, a staunch champion for the political right, defended the listeners of his program from Obama’s remarks, stating:

“You are not even close to what the president or the media or any of his other allies are attempting to accuse you of. There is precedent for every instinctive attitude you’ve got. Our instinct is right on the money with all this. We know this isn’t right. We know this isn’t sensible.”

“We are not a nation of racists, sexists, bigots, homophobes or what have you,” Limbaugh continued.

“As far as Barack Obama is concerned, you and me and every other Republican conservative is a bigger reprobate and a bigger threat than ISIS. And that, sadly, is not even arguable.”

The radio host explained, “Everything you’re watching ... is political in nature and is being reported to you because of the political opportunity the issue has.”

“Why is it so many Democrats don’t even want to ask questions, [and] don’t even care to find out who they [the refugees] are? They just want them here. The answer is political. It’s not humanitarian. It’s not rooted in compassion. The answer is politics.”

If the Republicans win the White House in 2016, Limbaugh opined that the day after the election, “The media’s gonna say, ‘I wonder why the Democrats lost so big?’ And they’re gonna go back and maybe consider this.” (Joe Kovac, Nov.18, 2015)

Obama’s Hypocrisy

Like the emperor with no clothes, President Obama doesn’t seem to recognize his own hypocrisy. When a killer uses a gun to take out students on a school campus, the president condemns the weapon more vehemently than the violence, calling for regulations that would further restrict the Second Amendment rights of law-abiding gun owners — turning them into sitting ducks for the next attack.

When an Islamic terrorist murders innocents in the name of Allah, the president tells us not to judge, to be patient, to show understanding. How can he encourage such behavior toward radical extremists?

Only days after the Paris terrorist attacks, thousands of fans in the stands of a Turkish soccer stadium booed during a moment of silence for the Paris victims. Then they began cheering, “Allah Akbar!” These screaming fans represent the very people President Obama says we should bring into our country by the tens of thousands.

Is that statement mere exaggeration? Is it an exaggeration to believe Islamic extremist will kill “infidels” if given the opportunity? Globally, 10 percent of the population is Islamic — that’s 100 million people who want to kill, crucify, behead, or enforce a tax on non-Muslims.

The FINAL Wake Up Call

How can a person cope with living in a world of false narratives and dreamlike illusions?

We need to wake up. We just need to wake up.

Says David Kupelian, “People tell me, ‘You know, this is a nightmare we’re living in under Obama.’ ... It’s true, but there’s only one step away from a nightmare to being awake again. You just have to wake up. You have to put aside these sleepy delusions that make us feel so comfortable in our dream world.”

God’s Word makes it plain: “How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleep?” (Proverbs 6:9).

“Therefore He saith: ‘Awake, thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light.’” (Ephesians 5:14).

“And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awaken out of sleep; for now is our salvation nearer than when we first believed” (Romans 13:11, KJV).

“Besides this you know what [a critical] hour this is, how it is high time now for you to wake up out of your sleep (rouse to reality). For salvation (final deliverance) is nearer to us now than when we first believed (adhered to, trusted in, and relied on Christ, the Messiah)” (Romans 13:11, Amplified).

Prophecy Briefs

Snapping of the American Mind

If someone just 20 years ago had said, for starters, that we'd someday elect an anti-American president who would intentionally flood our borders with millions of illegal immigrants and Islamist "refugees," that we'd soon celebrate as "heroic" a former Olympic champion for mutilating his body and pretending to be a woman, that we'd have five extremist lawyers on the Supreme Court unconstitutionally force the radical redefinition of marriage to mollify people with same-sex fetishes – you might call that person crazy.

Well, crazy is the new normal. America has lost its mind. We've snapped. Anyone with eyes to see, ears to hear and a brain to think knows it.

Maybe once in a generation are we so graced with a communicator like veteran journalist and best-selling author David Kupelian. His matchless ability to unpack the complicated issues of our day with simplistic precision is nothing short of genius, a gift from God he has shared once more in his latest book, "The Snapping of the American Mind: Healing a Nation Broken by a Lawless Government and Godless Culture ."

"The progressive left under Obama," he writes of his new book, "is accomplishing much more than just enlarging government, redistributing wealth and de-Christianizing the culture. With its wild celebration of sexual anarchy, its intimidating culture of political correctness and its incomprehension of the fundamental sacredness of human life, it is also, whether intentionally or not, promoting widespread dependency, debauchery, family breakdown, crime, corruption, depression and addiction."

"Surveying this growing chaos in American society," notes the book's summary, "Kupelian exposes both the utopian revolutionaries and their extraordinary methods that have turned America's most cherished values literally upside down – to the point that madness is celebrated and normality demonized."

In essence, "Snapping" untangles the modern-day manifestation of the timeless biblical truth found in Isaiah 5:20: "Woe to those who call evil good and good evil, who put darkness for light and light for darkness, who put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter."

But unlike the woeful occupant of 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Kupelian offers a substantive path forward – real hope and real change that will fundamentally repair what the "progressive" left has "fundamentally transformed."

"I don't give up hope," said Kupelian on the radio show "Coast to Coast AM" with George Noory. "I mean, you could say, if there's no hope then what do you do? You go off, you drop out, you live for yourself, for your family, and you try to live a good life. No; too many people have fought and bled and died to help this country and to help strangers in foreign lands. There's still half the country that has not had their mind snapped."

Teetering on the Edge of World War III

The civil war in Syria could trigger a global conflict, as did Sarajevo in 1914, largely because of the "apocalyptic" aims of the "moderate Islamists" President Obama has been supporting, according to a variety of observers.

"The world is presently teetering on the edge of World War III," Joel Richardson told WND. "This is not an overly sensationalized statement."

The bestselling author of "The Islamic Antichrist" is not alone in his opinion.

Conservative commentator Pat Buchanan slammed the anti-Russian stance of many Republican candidates during the most recent presidential debate and warned of the potential for “Syria in 2016 to become what Sarajevo became in 1914, the powder keg that explodes into a world war.”

And political and religious leaders such as Mikhail Gorbachev, Pope Francis and Michele Bachmann have issued recent warnings that World War III could be imminent.

New Jersey Gov. Chris Christie declared, “We are already in World War III.” And the left-wing website Salon claims the “apocalyptic world-views” of actors in the Syrian conflict mean it could soon spiral out of control.

Richardson, an evangelist with experience in the Middle East and the director of a documentary on Middle Eastern geopolitics titled “End Times Eyewitness,” contends Barack Obama is “squarely to blame” for the current instability.

“While seeking to cast itself as the dovish yin to the hawkish Bush’s yang, the reality is the new foreign policy implemented by President Obama has resulted in the present chaos in the Middle East, leading to the death of literally hundreds of thousands of people, and has pushed the world to the brink of World War III,” Richardson said.

He blames Obama’s “dramatic shift in foreign policy toward the Muslim world.”

“Obama decided that rather than deal with these various dictators in place, we would seek to place so-called moderate Islamist governments in power,” Richardson explained. “Turkey, Obama thought, would be the model. Thus, the toppling of the region’s strongmen began.”

Richardson said “Obama’s Middle East” began with American “meddling” in favor of the Muslim Brotherhood in Egypt. Though the Muslim Brotherhood soon fell from power, Richardson argues Obama’s “inferno of change” had more catastrophic effects in Libya, which Richardson calls an “ISIS hellhole.”

“No honest party can justify what we did there,” Richardson said.

Richardson also has his own explanation for the Benghazi attack, the Obama administration’s cover-up and the murder of U.S. State Department officials, including Ambassador J.

Christopher Stevens. He sees Syria at the root of the violence in Libya.

“Simply stated, the Benghazi massacre was allowed to cover up the fact that we were using Benghazi to send weapons to the Sunni rebels in Syria,” Richardson alleged. “Why would we do that? Because we were seeking to overthrow Syria’s strong-man, Bashar Assad. Many of these rebels consequently (along with the weapons we were supplying them) went on to join Jabhat Al-Nusra (al-Qaida Syria) or ISIS.”

Syria is seen as the crucial battleground in the emerging global conflict, as a wide array of great powers with disparate agendas are fighting over territory long held to be important in the end times literature of different religions.

ISIS’ version of eschatology even became an issue in the recent Republican presidential debate, when Rick Santorum warned against sending American ground troops into the Syrian town of Dabiq, a town where many Sunnis believe a final battle will be fought between Muslims and “infidels.”

However, Richardson argues much of the conflict in the region is actually driven by a struggle within the Muslim world, with Shiite Iran confronting Sunni Turkey.

He explained: “In an effort to spread its Islamic Revolution, Iran has been using various proxies, or partners in the region, to carry out its work. These proxies include Assad in Syria, Hezbollah in Lebanon and, again, the government of Iraq.

“So while Iran is doing all it can through its proxy-partners, Turkey has emerged as another major regional player with its own neo-Ottoman regional aspirations. It wants to revive the Ottoman Empire and control once again the whole Middle East. Thus, Turkey has been using ISIS as its Sunni alternative to Iran’s proxies. Turkey is also using ISIS against the Kurds in Syria, which are also a thorn in Turkey’s side.”

Turkey is quietly expanding its presence in Northern Iraq and is reportedly providing important logistical support to ISIS. But though Turkey is backing ISIS, Assad is not without allies. Besides Iran, Assad can also count on the support of Russia.

The tensions between Turkey and Russia escalated dramatically when Turkey shot down a Russian plane, an action Russian President Vladimir Putin alleged was motivated by Turkey's desire to protect its oil trade with ISIS.

The emerging conflict between Turkey and Russia could easily draw in the United States, as Turkey is a member of NATO. And even Democrats have charged the Obama administration's support for overthrowing Assad is actually helping Islamic extremists and increasing the possibility of war.

A Democrat member of Congress, Tulsi Gabbard of Hawaii, argued Obama's foreign policy toward Syria "puts us in that position of a potential direct head-to-head conflict with Russia ... a potential World War III situation."

Indeed, some conservative commentators, notably Glenn Beck, have even alleged the United States is acting as a de facto ally of ISIS. Beck recently charged Obama is using ISIS as a "pawn." Beck claimed Obama's real goal is "Assad out and to have a proxy war with Iran and Russia," which he called "shocking" and "infuriating."

"This is not right-wing conspiracy theory nonsense," Richardson said of Beck's claims.

He argued America is continuing to side with Turkey, putting itself on the opposite side of a larger geopolitical struggle with Iran and Russia that could easily turn into a general war.

"With Russia having entered the Middle East, everything has changed," he warned. "The ante has been upped dramatically. This conflict is no longer one of proxies, but is slowly developing into a genuine regional war. So the Turkish downing of a Russian plane and the subsequent rhetoric is not to be ignored. The United States, of course, continues to side with Turkey; it's a NATO ally. In fact, through NATO, we are obligated to side with Turkey. And so, now we are not simply at odds with Iran, but also with Russia."

Carl Gallups, a pastor and author of Final Warning: Understanding the Trumpet Days of Revelation, said the present instability in the Middle East and possibility of global conflict is leading "an increasing number of people to wake up to the fact the beginnings of World War III may be staring us in the face."

"Many students of Bible prophecy see the possibility of a building global war scenario (especially centered around Muslim donation attempts, Middle East turmoil and the attempted destruction of Israel) as a direct link to the soon return of Jesus Christ," Gallups told WND.

Gallups said the intervention of Russia and even China in Middle Eastern affairs is an ominous sign.

"For several centuries, biblical commentators have speculated that an end times global war would involve Russia and perhaps China," Gallups said. "To my knowledge, the world has never seen Russian and Chinese military equipment, troops, and naval fleets in the Middle East at the same time (and even with a level of cooperation) until now. And, of course, all of this is happening in the days in which Israel has returned to the land – a 2,500-year-old direct fulfillment of biblical end times prophecy."

Richardson said the seriousness of the situation can't be overstated. "There are over 200,000 dead in Syria," he said. "Over 5 million refugees. Europe in crisis. The world is teetering on the edge of a legitimate world war. This is where we presently find ourselves."

Gallups told WND, "It is practically impossible for any biblically literate person to miss what is happening right before our eyes."

He explained: "Israel is back in the land and surrounded by enemies on every side, the nations of the world (including the U.S.) are turning their backs on Israel, Islamic terrorism is melding into a possible World War III scenario, and the nations of Ezekiel 38 are continually building the coalition prophesied in that passage. And now Russia and China have arrived in the Middle East."

Gallups admitted Christians are divided on eschatology and critical questions such as the identity of the Antichrist. But he said one thing he knows for sure: "We are living in very prophetic times." (WorldNetDaily, Dec.26, 2015).

Horrible New Disease Strikes Homosexuals

A New Biblical Plague Has Risen Which Homosexuals Are Catching By The Doves And Is More Brutal And Violent Than HIV And Aids. NO CONDOM Can Stop It

Just when man thought he was smarter than God by inventing condoms, God looks down and creates a new biblical plague worse than the HIV Virus and AIDS. Welcome to Papilloma.

Years ago, the only Papilloma I knew was a Greek old time song I listened to when I lived in Israel. But today, Papilloma is a deadly virus that no matter what condom one uses it will not prevent from catching the sexually transmitted disease which predominately infects the LGBT community. God from above made it that not only intercourse spreads this disease (since man thought he was smart by inventing a condom), but regardless if these sexually deviant reprobates use condoms, they still get the disease through genital skin to skin contact causing the HPV (Human Papilloma Virus) to spread to new people making the LGBT's ubiquitous condom rendered completely obsolete.

There is no escape from God. Even the best experts tell us that HPV is the main cause for some serious genital warts while they still promote the "condom":

"Risk factors for genital warts are similar to other sexually transmitted diseases: sexually active young people with multiple partners, lack of circumcision, lack of condom use, homosexuals."

Today anal HPV is widespread which no "safe sex" education can prevent. Sure, one should still carry an umbrella even though the sky is hailing fire and brimstone. While there is no need to show a 'before' photo, here is an 'after' (excuse us for doing this for medical reasons) to show what to expect when you listen to the promoters that one "must experiment" with some homosexuality.

Nearly every case of cervical cancer, one of the deadliest types of cancer which is the leading cause of death in women, has been linked with HPV infections. According to even the pro LGBT National LGBT Cancer Network sodomites and lesbians are doubly more infected than heterosexual with cancer that results from HPV:

Even less well known is that these cancers disproportionately affect LGBT people based on lifestyle factors and screening habits more than their heterosexual counterparts.

HIV-positive gay or bisexual men have higher levels of both HPV infection and HPV-related disease than heterosexual men. An estimated 61% of HIV-negative and 93% of HIV-positive gay and bisexual men have anal HPV infections, compared to 50% or less of heterosexual men. Men who have sex with men are also at increased risk for anal cancer compared to the general population. Compared to heterosexual women, lesbians may be at greater risk for HPV and cervical cancer due to health and lifestyle factors

And God did not only defeat man's attempt to hide his sexual sin behind a condom in order to prevent HIV, but this new disease has become one of the most common, most infectious and dangerous diseases we have ever encountered that dwarfs HIV. It is the ISIS of diseases that is caused by a group of different viruses getting together to attack your skin in a horrific way. It infects membranous areas like the mouth, throat, cervix and other.

Some statistics show that around 65% of every woman will contract HPV in some period of their lives. This is a worrying fact to how infectious HPV is. Of course, what makes HPV so horrible is the way it manifests itself. HPV can easily be spotted by horrible warts. But, do not think that if you catch HPV, these warts or other symptoms will be visible right away. HPV is like the Islamic epidemic in the West, it has a way of keeping its head down for quite a while and some symptoms might be hidden for a few years even. This makes HPV even more dangerous. It is a group of more than 150 related viruses, sort of like having cousins and relatives coming together. According to WebMed:

HPV can infect skin not normally covered by a condom, so using a condom does not fully protect someone from the virus. Also, many people don't realize they're infected with HPV and may have no symptoms, so neither sexual partner may realize that the virus is being spread.

So now all this education about "safe sex" is out the window. It is not only that, the guise to spread homosexual education under the excuse of preventative measures is also out the window since the only preventative measure is abstinence from such weirdities. High-risk HPV strains include HPV 16 and 18, which cause about 70% of cervical cancers.

At times this disease can have some really weird symptoms. Dr Anthony Gaspari, a world expert in dermatology, from the University of Maryland travelled to Indonesia in order to attempt to diagnosis one named Dede and his mysterious condition. He took skin samples for biopsies back in the USA and now believes he may have identified Dede's condition as Human Papilloma Virus (HPV), and in conjunction with a rare genetic fault Dede looked like a tree bark.

The fools argue "HUMANITY IS NOT (read NEVER) THREATENED WITH EXTINCTION FOR HOMOSEXUALITY". This is only true because humanity will never become 100% homosexual. What is even truer (since not all humanity wants to convert to homosexuality) one can argue that "without the normals homosexuals are threatened with extinction for homosexuality". No mathematician can argue against this. As it turns out, the homosexual and open sex communities have become a pain in their own you know what, and with Papilloma, God doesn't have to wipe them out, they will wipe themselves out. (Walid Shoebat, November 6, 2015).

Obama as "Mad" as Hitler?

A major battle in a war over the future of Western civilization has been lost as millions of migrants from the Middle East who largely oppose Judeo-Christian values and have no intention of assimilating flood the United States, Britain, France, Germany and other nations, talk-radio host Michael Savage told his listeners Tuesday.

Savage said he received an email from someone he described as "far smarter than I am" and "farseeing."

"He said to me, 'It's over.'"

Paraphrasing the email, Savage said that what German Chancellor Angela Merkel is "doing to Germany, what the weakling is doing to England, what the socialist is doing to France, what Obama the psychopath is doing to America, will render this country non-existent in less than 50 years."

"And I said to him, 'Maybe you're right, maybe you're wrong,'" Savage recalled to his audience. "But the fact of the matter is, the world is changing in ways you could never have imagined."

Savage later affirmed to a caller that he hasn't given up, noting he presents in his upcoming book, "Government Zero: No Borders, No Language, No Culture," "40 actions to save America," including in the private sector and at the state and local government level.

"We haven't lost the war. The war has just begun," Savage said. "Because 30 million to 40 million Americans are finally awakened to what the psychopath has done to this country, and they want to stop him from doing more. They want to stop him before it's too late."

Savage criticized President Obama, British Prime Minister David Cameron, Merkel and other Western leaders with a provocative comparison he recognized could be misunderstood. They are doing, he said, what Adolf Hitler did in reverse: Instead of invading other countries, they are letting foreigners invade their countries.

"Hitler was a psychopath," Savage said, who "invaded other countries to impose his nation's, let us say, his distorted values and race on other countries."

"What is Obama doing?" Savage asked. "He's invading his own country with people of other races and other cultures and other languages to wipe away the predominant language, the predominant culture of his own nation. He is equally mad."

"Barack Obama is as equally mad as Adolf Hitler in that regard," Savage emphasized.

"Write it down," Savage said, directing his words to establishment media. "Maybe it will make it to CNN: 'Talk-show host says Obama as crazy as Hitler, because he's invading his own country with foreigners.' But they'd better get the whole quote correct. And I don't know if they're capable of it."

Savage said Merkel "is invading Germany with foreigners."

"She's invading her own nation," he said.

Regarding the war for Western Civilization – which was built largely on English common law, Judeo-Christian morality "and the uniquely American principles of individualism and self-reliance" – Savage also referenced the cultural revolution of the 1960s.

Some 50 years later, he asked, "Can anyone say that has worked out well?" (WND, Michael Savage, "We've Lost the Battle," Oct.22, 2015).

GMO Food – It's Worse Than We Thought!

Over the last decade, as genetically modified, or GMO, foods have increasingly taken over our food supply, we've been learning more about their dangers to our health.

Now, one courageous doctor is pointing to mounting evidence that leaves no doubt — GMO foods are even worse than we were told.

As this respected doctor points out in a riveting new presentation, no long-term human studies have ever supported GMO safety. Shockingly, the World Health Organization only requires a mere 90 days of testing to claim that GMOs are safe. Well, no one dies from smoking cigarettes within 90 days of starting to smoke, either!

Yet while lifetime studies still have not been done on humans, scientists have done these studies on animals — and what they found is stunning. Lab mice fed just a 33 percent GMO diet begin developing aggressive cancers (particularly breast cancer), liver failure, and kidney failure

Shockingly, 50 percent of the males and 70 percent of the female animals on the GMO diet succumbed to early death at an age equivalent to 40 to 50 human years.

While more people have begun to fight back against GMOs, the big GMO companies spend millions of dollars to defeat laws that would require GMO labeling. Quite simply, these big companies know that GMO crops are cheaper to grow, and therefore more profitable.

In the meantime, many health experts now warn us to take the only positive action available to protect our health — avoiding GMOs as much as humanly possible. But considering the fact that GMOs are hidden in over 30,000 food products, that is not an easy task. (Newsmax, Nov.15, 2015).

Lying about Fighting ISIS

Behind all of this re-alignment of the "war on terror" is the Islamic State (IS) bogeyman. Over 62 countries have joined a coalition since last year to “fight IS,” as we keep hearing. Every month brings more coalition partners. In July Turkey claimed it was joining the “ongoing cooperation against Daesh [IS].” On September 26 the British Parliament voted to allow air missions to be flown against the Islamists (the same parliament rejected David Cameron’s request for air strikes against Assad in 2013). At the same time Belgium and Denmark “joined the growing coalition, which includes France and Australia, along with Arab allies like Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates.” Even Iran, which is already supporting Assad and Shi’ite militias in Syria and Iraq, has said it may help fight IS alongside the coalition.

If you want to have some fun go to an online portal that allows you to color-code a world map (I like mapchart.net). Click all the 62 or more countries now engaged in “fighting IS.” Eventually much of the world will look red.

The countries with the strongest militaries in the world, the highest GDPs and some of the largest populations are all allied against IS. Almost all of the countries who fought on both sides of World War II in Europe are allied against IS. Germany, Italy, Russia, France, the UK and US, all on the same side. These countries jointly possess the most hightech military equipment that has ever existed.

And what are they fighting? Islamic State is a terrifying organization – if you are an Iraqi or Syrian civilian, or a minority Yezidi or Christian, whose communities have been murdered en masse. But setting aside its propaganda, rape of women and murder of civilians, IS was estimated to only have 31,000 fighters at the height of its offensive in September of 2015. The number of people living under IS control in Syria is estimated at around two million, although some have fled. That includes people in the province of Aleppo, Hasakah, Raqqa and the areas around Deir as-Zor. Bolstered by 20,000 foreign volunteer fighters, IS can only draw on 200,000 men of fighting age for recruitment and logistics. In Iraq it has a few more resources. But it is stretched thin in both Iraq and Syria, fighting Shi’ite militias, Iran and the Kurds of the YPG in Syria and Peshmerga in Iraq. The Kurds alone field fighting forces that are larger than IS and have defeated IS in battle. So if the Kurds, by themselves, with truck-mounted .50 caliber guns and AK-47s can defeat IS, why can’t the 62-country “anti-IS coalition”? How is it possible that the countries who fought on both sides of WWII in Europe can’t defeat 40,000 men armed with mortars and riding around in Toyota trucks? IS doesn’t have an air force. It doesn’t have air defenses.

It doesn’t have tanks. It improvises armored vehicles by welding plates to civilian cars, and by capturing Humvees from the Iraqi army. With no way to service the captured equipment, much of it falls apart eventually. If you resurrected just one division of Patton’s Third Army from 1944, it could defeat IS. So why is IS still growing in power in Syria, still fighting? Because the 62-nation coalition and all its friends in Ankara and Moscow are not really fighting IS.

We live in an era of fabrications, bombastic statements, bureaucratic mumbo-jumbo and nonsense, where paying lip service to “fighting” is always preferable to actually fighting. One foreign volunteer who served with the Kurds actually fighting IS wrote on Facebook yesterday: “Surprise, surprise, ‘fighting terrorism’ is a good excuse to kill whoever you don’t like these days.”

His cynical comment is basically correct. When Turkey claimed it was going to “fight IS,” it actually launched a war against the Kurdish militant group PKK partly as a way to cement its popularity ahead of November elections.

Putin’s claim to be fighting IS was just a way to get a stamp of approval from the international community to go deep into Syria to support Assad and defeat the Syrian rebels. It’s no surprise that after Russia launched its first air strikes it was reported that Putin would hold “urgent talks” with US “after Putin defies West, ‘targets US-backed rebels.’” Every nation has learned that “fighting IS” is a ticket to carry out other policy agendas. For Turkey it was a way to fight the Kurds. For Russia, a way to support Assad. For Iran a way to deepen its influence over Iraq and Syria. For some countries, it’s a way to get closer to the US, or to test out military equipment.

The US campaign against IS has been panned as exaggerating its results and accomplishing little. You can see that for yourself by reading between the lines of any of the Pentagon statements on US air strikes and “accomplishments.”

In September 2014 when the strikes were beginning, the claim was they targeted “manufacturing workshops and training camps.” In another strike consisting of F-22 Raptors, F-15s, F-16s, B-1 bombers and drones, the targets were IS “headquarters, training camps barracks and combat vehicles.” The Pentagon claimed, “Coalition partners participated in both the second and third waves, supporting with a range of combat capabilities that began with combat air patrols to actual strikes on targets.” One US ship fired Tomahawk missiles that hit an IS “finance center” in Raqqa. The target was “engaged.”

On June 5, 2015 the Pentagon claimed, “Our coalition air strikes are the most precise and disciplined in the history of aerial warfare.” Asked about how IS had captured Palmyra, the briefing general noted, “I didn’t say that they haven’t made tactical advances. I said they haven’t made strategic victories.”

The objective of the air strikes was “governance and arresting foreign fighter flows and crushing Daesh financing may be more important.”

Other briefings describe air strikes on IS motorcycles and “fighting positions,” which basically means millions of dollars spent to blow up sandbags. The concept is to defeat IS through jargon, not total war. Which is why IS is still advancing, as most of the world supposedly fights it. The one thing those “fighting IS” fear is that IS might actually be defeated, which would remove their excuse for involving themselves in the Syrian civil war. (Jerusalem Post, Seth J. Frantzman, Oct.3, 2015).

ISIS Attacking Power Grid

The FBI and other US law enforcement agencies are warning that ISIS has been attacking and attempting to hack into the American power grid.

Officials revealed these attacks this week during a conference of American energy firms, and said ISIS’ attempts could get more sophisticated and dangerous.

And it could only be a matter of time before they achieve some level of success.

A successful attack on the American power grid would disrupt the flow of electricity to American hospitals, businesses, and police stations, and the attacks have US security agencies worried.

Caitlin Durkovich, the assistant secretary for infrastructure protection at the Department of Homeland Security, had a chilling warning for the energy executives: “ISIL is beginning to perpetrate cyberattacks,” she said, using another acronym for the terror organization.

So far the attacks by the Islamic State have been unsuccessful and fairly amateurish. But ISIS is demonstrating “strong intent”, according to John Riggi, a section chief at the FBI’s cyber division, who went on to explain how these ISIS attacks may become stronger and stronger.

According to a CNN report, “hacking software is up for sale in black markets online. That’s often how mafias acquire the cyberweapons they use to break into companies and steal giant databases of information they later sell to fraudsters.”

ISIS could acquire these same high-power hacking software systems – and use them to sow chaos. (The Horn News, Oct.16, 2015).

Jack Van Impe, Back from Death’s Door, Warns of Muslim Menace

He rivals Billy Graham in his longevity and, in his knowledge of Scripture, he may be in a league of his own.

But he almost died in a hospital bed back in April, only to return six months later on Oct. 3 to share his back-from-the-brink story.

He is Jack Van Impe, the man many refer to by his nickname, “The Walking Bible.” He earned the nickname for the way he quotes dozens of scriptures at dizzying speed over the course of a half-hour TV broadcast.

The 84-year-old televangelist returned to his show Oct. 3 with a message about the dangers of an emerging combination of Islam and Christianity, called “Chrislam,” and how it’s being promoted in a nationwide billboard campaign by a wealthy Muslim group.

Over the years Van Impe, the son of a hard-drinking nightclub musician turned Christian missionary, has never shied from, as he says, “speaking the truth.”

His commitment to speaking out against what he sees as the lies and deceptions of false teachers and false religions have sometimes landed him in conflicts.

In June of 2011, Trinity Broadcasting Network refused to air an episode of "Jack Van Impe Presents" that criticized Robert Schuller and Rick Warren for promoting "Chrislam," a movement that seeks to downplay the doctrinal differences between Christianity and Islam. Van Impe responded by pulling his show from TBN.

Exposing Islam's new billboard campaign

The truth about Islam is a topic he continues to hammer today from his studio in Rochester Hills, Michigan. It is not a religion of peace, he says, despite what American Muslims or their apologists in Washington say.

In his second broadcast back from the extended sick leave, Van Impe blew the lid off the massive deception he says lies behind a billboard campaign by the Islamic Circle of North America, a Muslim Brotherhood front group that wants to erect 100 billboards across the U.S. promoting Islam.

Some of the billboards have already started appearing in Texas, Georgia, Iowa, California and other states.

"Find Jesus in the Quran," blasts one of the signs near Dallas.

"Muhammad: A Mercy to Mankind," flashes another.

"Same family, same message: Abraham, Moses, Jesus, Mohamed, peace be upon them all," screams yet another.

And, still another billboard says, "Muhammad Believed In: Peace, Social Justice, Women's Rights."

'396 lies about our Jesus'

The idea is to promote the teaching that there is a spiritual kinship between Muslims, Jews and Christians, Van Impe said.

This idea is quickly laid to rest by the Quran, however, which Van Impe cited, in Sura 109:1-6 as saying "Unbelievers, (Jews and Christians) I do not worship what you worship, nor do you worship what I worship. You have your own religion and I have mine."

Van Impe, looking thinner and a bit pale, lacked none of his usual energy on set in the Oct. 10 show. He said he has documented 396 lies about Jesus in the Quran.

"I have plenty to say because since they put out these billboards I've been searching my New Testament, I've been searching the Quran, and they have 396 lies and errors about our Jesus and their Jesus. They are not the same. And that's why Moses, who they're claiming is one of their followers, said in the first commandment 'thou shall have no other gods before me,' and that includes Jesus, who is our God, Romans 9, verse 5."

And what are some of these errors embedded in Islamic teaching?

"Number one, that the Jesus of the Quran and the one of the Christian Bible are identical. A lie. A fabrication. A deceit. Why? In Sura, chapters 4,5,6,9, 17, 19, 23, 88, eight times, if you believe Christ is the Son of God you will burn in hell forever. Now is that what your Bible, (whether) Protestant, Christian, Catholic, teaches? Absolutely not," Van Impe said.

'You are an antichrist!'

"Ours says that in 1 John 2:22 if you deny Christ is the Son of God then you are an antichrist! And that's you guys that twist and lie to the public," he continued. "There has never been such deception as these billboards you're going to set up. By the way, Jesus, 51 times, is called the Son of God. No doubt about it (in the Bible)."

He then recited a litany of Bible chapters and verse describing Jesus Christ as God's Son, including Jesus' words that "no man can come to the Father except by me." And "there is no name under heaven by which you must be saved."

"I've found 396 times where your billboards are wrong. It's deceit. And, I've never known of a religious group that has so minimized and disgraced the true Jesus."

History shows trail of death for Christians under Islam

Van Impe said the greatest number of Christians ever slaughtered in the history of the world since the year 600 when Islam came into existence has happened in this last century, the 20th century.

"And their method is beheading. And that's Revelation 20 verse 4, 'I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus.' You can't deny this is going on. And it's going to continue going on because they have to get rid of all infidels and that's anyone in any other religion who will not accept Allah." (WND, Leo Hohmann, Oct.13, 2015).

Pope: Koran a book of Peace and Islam Not a Violent Religion

What treachery. What betrayal.

"Scanning the news so you don't have to. So far nothing from the Pope about the oppression of Christians by Muslims in the Middle East and other parts of the world. Which brings this to mind. Can a holy man be holy if he betrays his own people and lets them be crushed by another faith without uttering a word of support or condemnation on his brothers' behalf? Instead he offers them (and us) more bilge and doubletalk about the 'religion of peace.'" It's evil.

Nothing about the genocide of his people. Global warming, capitalism — these are the enemies of humanity. This Pope is a disaster. (Pamela Geller, Sept.26, 2015).

ISIS Jihadis Could Cripple America

President Obama is coming under fire from a respected terrorism expert after Obama said the public needs to keep in mind that while ISIS can kill Americans, it cannot bring down the nation.

In an interview with NPR's Steve Inskeep conducted before Obama left for his vacation in Hawaii, Obama said the U.S. needs to remain vigilant to stop ISIS-inspired attacks on its own soil, but he also urged people to take a larger view.

"It's also important for us to keep things in perspective. This is not an organization that can destroy the United States. This is not a huge industrial power that can pose great risks to us institutionally or in a systematic way. But they can hurt us, and they can hurt our people and our families, so I understand why people are worried," said Obama, who says the most important thing we can do is not change "who we are."

Erick Stakelbeck is a terrorism analyst for the Christian Broadcasting Network and author of "ISIS Exposed: Beheadings, Slavery and the Hellish Reality of Radical Islam." He said Obama's implication is troubling.

"He fundamentally misunderstands the nature of the threat. He does not understand terrorism, especially of the Islamic variety. He doesn't get it," Stakelbeck said. "The Islamic terror threat has already changed our way of life. If you don't believe me, just go to an airport."

And while Obama may be right that ISIS cannot topple the U.S. government, Stakelbeck said it could do a whole lot of damage.

"If ISIS or another Islamic terror group gets their hands on a weapon of mass destruction, which they are working diligently to acquire, they might not be able to take down the whole country, but they can take out New York, Washington, Chicago (or) L.A. That's not alarmism. That's not fear tactics. That's a fact," Stakelbeck said.

"The FBI director is saying that ISIS has a network of supporters and sympathizers in every state in the union," said Stakelbeck, noting FBI Director James Comey admitted the government is watching some 1,000 possible threats throughout all 50 states. "Then you have the House Homeland Security Committee that back in September released a report saying 250 U.S. citizens have left their comfortable homes here, traveled to Iraq and Syria to join ISIS, and dozens of them have already returned." (WND, "Terror Analyst: ISIS Jihadis Could 'Cripple America,'" Greg Corombos, Dec.26, 2015).

The Bizarre, Delusional Mind of Barack Obama

What are the inner motivations and deep, hidden facts about America's 44th president? What are his real agendas and ambitions for the future? What is the truth about his background, history, psychological make up, and passive-aggressive behavior? What really makes him tick, and what does it mean for the world?

William F. Dankenbring

1. Is Obama a Christian?

Although Obama says he is a Christian, this is another obfuscation on his part. A "Christian" is one who follows Christ, and Obama certainly does not. His whole background is Muslim. Jesus Christ Himself said, "You shall know them by their fruits" (Matt.7:20). What are the fruits of Barack Obama? Does he even sound like a Christian when he ridicules the Bible, both Old and New Testament? When he accuses Christians of being on a "high horse" when they rail against ISIS savagery against Christians, and he himself and his attorney general and justice department persecute Christians in the work place?

In a television interview discussing his religion, Sen. Barack Obama stated, "My Muslim faith." Obama, speaking to ABC's George Stephanopoulos on "This Week," was talking about what he described as "smears" that were claiming he was a Muslim when he maintains he is a practicing Christian.

"Let's not play games," Obama stated. "What I was suggesting – you're absolutely right that John McCain has not talked about my Muslim faith. And you're absolutely right that that has not come."

Was it a slip of the tongue or momentary confusion?

Stephanopoulos immediately interrupted Obama, stating, "Christian faith."

"My Christian faith," Obama quickly said.

As he let slip in the interview, when running for president, he said, "my Muslim faith." But the mouth speaks what the heart means. Obama's "Christian" faith is of the Jeremiah Wright kind, who is a black, racist, who shouts, "God damn America" in sermons, and who is virulently anti-American, anti-Jewish, anti-white, and anti-Christ!

Barack Obama is in the process of trying to recreate the Christian faith in his own, very liberal and unorthodox image.

Built on a foundation of radical Black Liberation Theology, theological liberalism and post-modernism, Obama is undermining historic, biblical Christianity while claiming he is a Christian. In the process, he is defaming the Christian faith.

By declaring he is a Christian, yet denying Christianity's most essential truths and traditional morality, Obama is associating Christ with some of the most wicked practices imaginable, all of which are condemned in the Bible.

By any historic or biblical standard, Barack Obama is not a Christian.

With his incredible celebrity status, Obama's ideas about spiritual matters have become very significant, and they are very dangerous.

2. Is Obama a homosexual president, despite pretences to be hetero-sexual?

Larry Sinclair\ wrote a book about his own trysts with Obama using drugs, cocaine, and practicing sodomy with Obama in Chicago where he was well known on the Chicago bath house homosexual scene. While in the White House he had his “body man,” Reggie Love, who apparently served as his sexual partner for years and went on vacations with him. No wonder Obama is a fierce advocate of homosexual “rights” and same-sex marriage.

A prominent member of Chicago’s homosexual community claims Barack Obama’s participation in the “gay” bar and bathhouse scene was so well known that many who were aware of his lifestyle were shocked when he ran for president and finally won the White House.

“It was preposterous to the people I knew then to think Obama was going to keep his gay life secret,” said Kevin DuJan, who was a gossip columnist in Chicago for various blogs when Obama was living in the city as a community organizer and later a state senator.

“Nobody who knew Obama in the gay bar scene thought he could possibly be president,” said DuJan.

DuJan, founder and editor of the Hillary Clinton-supporting website HillBuzz.org, told WND he has first-hand information from two different sources that “Obama was personally involved in the gay bar scene.”

“If you just hang out at these bars, the older guys who have been frequenting these gay bars for 25 years will tell you these stories,” DuJan said. “Obama used to go to the gay bars during the week, most often on Wednesday, and they said he was very much into older white guys.”

Obama, DuJan said, is “not heterosexual and he’s not bisexual. He’s homosexual.”

Investigative journalist Wayne Madsen, who worked with the National Security Agency from 1984 to 1988 as a Navy intelligence analyst, confirmed DuJan’s claims.

“It is common knowledge in the Chicago gay community that Obama actively visited the gay bars and bathhouses in Chicago while he was an Illinois state senator,” Madsen told WND.

WND also spoke with a member of the East Bank Club in Chicago, who confirmed Obama was a member there and was known to be a homosexual. The upscale fitness club, which has some 10,000 members, is not a “gay” facility. But it’s one of a number of places identified by the Chicago homosexual community as a “gay gym,” where homosexuals meet and engage in sexual activity.

In April, WND reported a federal judge dismissed a libel case against Larry Sinclair, a homosexual who claimed Obama’s 2008 presidential campaign had paid to rig a polygraph test regarding Sinclair’s sensational charge that he had sex and used cocaine twice with Obama while Obama was an Illinois state senator. Sinclair tells his story in “Barack Obama & Larry Sinclair: Cocaine, Sex, Lies & Murder.”

WND also reported former radical activist John Drew has said that when he met Obama when Obama was a student at Occidental College, he thought Obama and his then-Pakistani roommate were “gay” lovers.

In addition, rumors have swirled around Obama’s relationship with his personal aide and former “body man,” Reggie Love, who resurfaced on the eve of the Republican National Convention to support his old boss. Love resigned from the White House in November 2011 after compromising photographs of him as a college student received wide circulation. (WND, Jerome R. Corsi, “Claim: Obama Hid Gay Life to Become President,” Sept. 11, 2012).

3. Is Obama really a Muslim?

Obama has long denied he was ever a Muslim. His campaign site states: “Senator Obama has never been a Muslim, was not raised as a Muslim, and is a committed Christian.”

Public records in Indonesia listed Obama as a Muslim during his early years, and a number of childhood friends claimed to the media Obama was once a mosque-attending Muslim.

Obama's campaign several times has wavered in response to reporters queries regarding the senator's childhood faith.

Commenting on a Los Angeles Times report quoting a childhood friend stating Obama prayed in a mosque – something the presidential candidate said he never did – Obama's campaign released a statement explaining the senator "has never been a practicing Muslim."

Widely distributed reports have noted that in January 1968, Obama was registered as a Muslim at Jakarta's Roman Catholic Franciscus Assisi Primary School under the name Barry Soetoro. He was listed as an Indonesian citizen whose stepfather, listed on school documents as "L Soetoro Ma," worked for the topography department of the Indonesian Army.

Catholic schools in Indonesia routinely accept non-Catholic students but exempt them from studying religion. Obama's school documents, though, wrongly list him as being Indonesian.

After attending the Assisi Primary School, Obama was enrolled – also as a Muslim, according to documents – in the Besuki Primary School, a public school in Jakarta.

The Loatze blog, run by an American expatriate in Southeast Asia who visited the Besuki school, noted: "All Indonesian students are required to study religion at school, and a young 'Barry Soetoro,' being a Muslim, would have been required to study Islam daily in school. He would have been taught to read and write Arabic, to recite his prayers properly, to read and recite from the Quran and to study the laws of Islam."

Indeed, in Obama's autobiography, "Dreams From My Father," he acknowledged studying the Quran and describes the public school as "a Muslim school."

In a free-ranging interview with the New York Times, Obama described the Muslim call to prayer as "one of the prettiest sounds on Earth at sunset."

The Times' Nicholas Kristof wrote Obama recited, "with a first-class [Arabic] accent," the opening lines of the Muslim call to prayer.

The first few lines of the call to prayer state:

Allah is Supreme!
Allah is Supreme!
Allah is Supreme! Allah is Supreme!
I witness that there is no god but Allah
I witness that there is no god but Allah
I witness that Muhammad is his prophet ...

(Aaron Klein, "Obama Slips on TV: 'My Muslim Faith'", WND, Nov.7, 2008).

Obama grew up as a Muslim, his father and step father were Muslim, he attended a Muslim school in Indonesia while growing up as a young boy, and has said no sound is prettier to him than the call to prayer by a Muslim cleric. He has ridiculed the Bible, both the Old Testament and the New Testament, and has spoken of the "holy Koran" often in speeches. There is no doubt in my mind that he is a Muslim loving fanatic, and welcomes those of the Muslim religion into the United States as "refugees," but refuses to allow similar access to Chaldean Christians fleeing the Middle East. (WND,

4. Is Obama a liar-in-chief as some have characterized him?

Obama lied about "Obamacare," lied when he said people could have their old plan, their own doctor, that it would save them money – all lies. He lies like a sponge. He is the most artful, deceitful, sham impostor to ever inhabit the White House – his lies are legion and legendary.

During his 2012 State of the Union speech, Barack Obama claimed "American oil production is the highest that it's been in eight years."

In fact, the Congressional Research Service reports that 96% of the increase comes from oil fields out of Obama's control. By contrast, the production from federally-owned oil fields he does control has dropped by 275,000 barrels a day. It is worth noting that privately-owned fields have increased by 395,000 barrels a day.

Obama has told the world there has never been a better friend of Israel in the White House.

In September 2012, an Israeli newspaper reported that senior Obama Administration officials have told Tehran that Barack Obama does not intend to join Israel in any attack on Iran's nuclear installations. In May 2011, Obama asked G8 member nations to fund the Arab Spring counties who are clearly on their way to planning an all-out attack on Israel.

In May 2011, Obama said the fence between America and Mexico was "basically complete"; yet the Department of Homeland Security admits just 36.3 miles or 5% of the border is fenced.

Obama lied and said abortions would not be publicly funded under Obamacare.

Despite Obama's empty lies about no public funding for abortions, a March 2012 edict from the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) unequivocally ruled Obamacare will use our tax dollars to fund abortion.

In April 2009, Obama claimed he "saved or created over 150,000 jobs."

In an odd burst of veracity, his friends at the AP called him on this lie, pointing out that at that point since Obama came to office, the United States lost more than 1.2 million jobs as per his own Bureau of Labor Statistics. The report continued by pointing out that any jobs “saved or created” by Obama’s stimulus bill were “dwarfed by the number of recent job losses.”

He claimed that by the end of his first term, he would cut the deficit in half.

The truth is that he has given us more new debt than all previous presidents combined.

Remember Obama telling us there would be no earmarks in his 2009 stimulus package? He lied. The bill had over 9,000 earmarks in it; and of course, it failed to deliver even a small improvement for our economy.

Obama told us that without his 2009 stimulus package unemployment would grow to 8.5%. We got the stimulus, and it gave us 44 straight months of unemployment at or above 8%.

Obama lied about his position on Gay “marriage” multiple times, moving from “I am not one to support gay marriage” to his advocacy of “same-sex marriage” in 2015 and the White House celebration of the Supreme Court’s decision on the subject by flying the rainbow colors of the Gay-Lesbian movement.

5. Does Obama really hate America?

Ben Stein said on Nov. 17 that President Obama has a ‘hatred for America,’ and claims that he hasn’t taken ISIS seriously enough.

Conservative commentator Ben Stein said yesterday there’s no doubt President Obama hates America, but asked if that might have to do with his race.

Stein, who last year called Obama the “most racist president there has ever been,” told Newsmax’s Steve Malzberg that Obama is a “bad joke” because of his failed leadership against ISIS.

“I think the question is,” he said, “why is he so angry at America. I don’t think that there’s much question he doesn’t wish America well. He has a real strong hatred of America.”

Ben Stein said, “He’s a very real danger. The question is, why is he so angry at America? I don’t think there’s much question that he does not wish America well. He has a real strong hatred of America. Is it because he’s part black? I don’t know. Is it because he felt his father was mistreated by the British in Kenya?

“I don’t know.”

6. Why has Obama allowed the threat of ISIS to explode on the world scene?

President Obama is partially responsible for the Paris attacks because he let ISIS get so strong. He called them a JV team, he said that they weren't really serious or important," said Ben Stein. "He has not in any sense addressed their threat. As the leader of the most important nation in the world, he's a bad joke." On top of that, he said President Obama is "missing in action" while other world leaders are trying to figure out how to fight ISIS.

The confusion in the President's thinking and strategy about the current terrorist crisis is frightening in its implications.

As the tragic events in Paris confirm, surprise remains one of the most important aspects of warfare, in this instance by the Islamic terrorists of Daesh [ISIL or ISIS] against the U.S. and the West.

Yet Obama persists in announcing publicly that under no circumstances will he commit significant ground forces again to the Middle East for his "destroy and degrade" campaign. It is irresponsible to reveal such an important aspect of strategy to your enemy who examines every public statement and private rumor to assess his actions.

Obama's penchant for refusing to use "Islamic", and condemning those who do as "trying to make terrorism a Muslim problem rather than a terrorist problem" is one of his greatest handicaps in his effort "to degrade and ultimately destroy" ISIS.

Refusing to identify the enemy makes it all the harder to fight a foe which has an intellectual rationale as well as brute strength. The fighters for ISIS are not recruited from Methodists or Vedantists but from Islam, and it has its roots in Islamic scripture.

Obama relegates any discussion of the security issues of taking in an increasing number of refugees as ill-conceived and racist. Obama claimed that there must be a commitment to America's tradition of concern and hospitality, with "rigorous screening security checks". But the director of the FBI and others have recently explained that given the difficulties of securing Syrian data any such intensive examination is nearly impossible. This danger Obama simply glosses over.

There is, after all, mounting evidence some of the participants in the Paris massacre came into Europe as "refugees." In fact, the Obama Administration has done little if anything to increase the size and scope of the FBI and other agencies which carry out surveillance.

None of this is reassuring to Americans facing the exploding threat of militant Muslim violence and Islamic terrorism within our own country, on our own shores! The danger escalates while Obama whistles as he walks through the graveyard.

7. Was Obama really born in Hawaii?

A former Hawaii records official revealed there is absolutely no birth certificate for Barack Obama. The bombshell revelation backs up long-standing claims that Obama – who insists that he was born in a Honolulu hospital – really took his first breath in Kenya and, as a result, violates the U.S. Constitution’s requirements for the President to be a ‘natural born’ American.”

Timothy Adams, who served as senior government records clerk in Honolulu in 2008, said: “There is no birth certificate. I was informed by my boss that we did not have Obama’s birth record.” Obama once mistakenly named two different hospitals as his place of birth, and when questions began pouring in during the election campaign in 2008, Adams says he asked both of them to supply the democratic candidate’s birth certificate – and was told no such record exists!

Says Adams, “Neither hospital has a document that a doctor signed off on saying they were present at this man’s birth. It’s like an open secret. Everyone in the government knows this.”

Obama’s paternal grandmother insists she saw him being born in Kenya! If indeed he was born in Kenya, he would not qualify to be President, because his late father, Barack Obama, Sr., was not a U.S. citizen. His time in the Oval Office would be ILLEGAL!

Adams has no ax to grind in the issue. He was simply doing his job, employed by the Hawaiian elections office, checking the validity of voter’s registrations and citizenship, when he made the stunning discovery. He declares, “It was my job to verify the voter’s identity, and in my professional opinion, Obama definitely was NOT born in Hawaii. I can say that without a shadow of a doubt because there is no legal record of him being born there.”

Along with this shocking discovery and declaration, has come a damning photograph of Obama in Kenya with his relatives there. It was taken in 1987 and shows Obama standing with nine of his Kenya family in a family portrait. A Kenya birth certificate, by the way, shows Obama was born in Mombasa’s Coast Provincial General Hospital at 7:24 p.m. on August 4, 1961. Says Obama’s granny, Sarah Hussein Obama, she was “in the delivery room in Kenya” when Obama was born.

8. Is Obama a socialist/communist in disguise?

In his biography of Barack Obama, David Mendell writes about Obama’s life as a “secret smoker” and how he “went to great lengths to conceal the habit.” But what about Obama’s secret political life? It turns out that Obama’s childhood mentor, Frank Marshall Davis, was a communist.

In his books, Obama admits attending “socialist conferences” and coming into contact with Marxist literature. But he ridicules the charge of being a “hard-core academic Marxist,” which was made by his colorful and outspoken 2004 U.S. Senate opponent, Republican Alan Keyes.

However, through Frank Marshall Davis, Obama had an admitted relationship with someone who was publicly identified as a member of the Communist Party USA (CPUSA). The record shows that Obama was in Hawaii from 1971-1979, where, at some point in time, he developed a close relationship, almost like a son, with Davis, listening to his “poetry” and getting advice on his career path. But Obama, in his book, Dreams From My Father, refers to him repeatedly as just “Frank.”

The reason is apparent: Davis was a known communist who belonged to a party subservient to the Soviet Union. In fact, the 1951 report of the Commission on Subversive Activities to the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii identified him as a CPUSA member. What’s more, anti-communist congressional committees, including the House Un-American Activities Committee (HUAC), accused Davis of involvement in several communist-front organizations.

Trevor Loudon, a New Zealand-based libertarian activist, researcher and blogger, noted evidence that “Frank” was Frank Marshall Davis in a posting in March of 2007.

Obama’s communist connection adds to mounting public concern about a candidate who has come out of virtually nowhere, with a brief U.S. Senate legislative record, to become the Democratic Party frontrunner for the U.S. presidency. In the latest Real Clear Politics poll average, Obama beats Republican John McCain by almost four percentage points.

Obama has well-documented socialist connections, which help explain why he sponsored a “Global Poverty Act” designed to send hundreds of billions of dollars of U.S. foreign aid to the rest of the world, in order to meet U.N. demands. The bill has passed the House and a Senate committee, and awaits full Senate action.

But the Communist Party connection through Davis is even more ominous. Decades ago, the CPUSA had tens of thousands of members, some of them covert agents who had penetrated the U.S. Government. It received secret subsidies from the old Soviet Union. (Cliff Kincaid, Accuracy in Media, Feb.18, 2008).

9. Is Obama a sociopath?

Sociopathic individuals often appear engaging, friendly, normal on the outside – but on the inside, in their minds, they are delusional, mentally unstable, don’t know the difference between right and wrong, and yet act rational on the outside. Many world leaders, consumed by personal ambition, are pathological human beings – deadly and mentally unbalanced.

Does President Obama show signs of mental instability and sociopathic behavior?

Talk show host Michael Savage says, "Because 30 million to 40 million Americans are finally awakened to what the psychopath has done to this country, and they want to stop him from doing more. They want to stop him before it's too late."

Savage criticized President Obama, British Prime Minister David Cameron, Merkel and other Western leaders with a provocative comparison he recognized could be misunderstood. They are doing, he said, what Adolf Hitler did in reverse: Instead of invading other countries, they are letting foreigners invade their countries.

"Hitler was a psychopath," Savage said, who "invaded other countries to impose his nation's, let us say, his distorted values and race on other countries."

"What is Obama doing?" Savage asked. "He's invading his own country with people of other races and other cultures and other languages to wipe away the predominant language, the predominant culture of his own nation. He is equally mad.

"Barack Obama is as equally mad as Adolf Hitler in that regard," Savage emphasized. "Write it down," Savage said, directing his words to establishment media. "Maybe it will make it to CNN: 'Talk-show host says Obama as crazy as Hitler, because he's invading his own country with foreigners.' But they'd better get the whole quote correct. And I don't know if they're capable of it." (WND, Michael Savage, "We've Lost the Battle," Oct.22, 2015).

10. Is Obama a threat to become mentally unhinged?

President Obama is revealing, through his Iran deal, a "destructive rage beyond belief" that should be alarming to the world because of its implication for the balance of nuclear-weapons power. So says a forensic profiler whose work includes the double-murder case against O.J. Simpson and the Natalie Holloway disappearance.

Andrew G. Hodges, M.D., a board-certified psychiatrist in private practice, cited Obama's recent description of himself as an "uncaged bear" and his statement there's "no telling what I might do."

"He warns us he's slipping mentally – his judgment impaired," Hodges said.

Hodges, author of "The Obama Confession: Secret Fear. Secret Fury" and a new book, "As Done Unto You," about the Amanda Knox case, previously was assistant clinical professor of psychiatry at the University of Alabama School of Medicine.

He has helped pioneer work on the brilliant unconscious mind, which he explained in his 1994 book, "The Deeper Intelligence." He teaches that by accessing and interpreting messages from a person's "unconscious super intelligence," he can uncover confessions as well as motives for crimes.

And Obama is revealing that he's not exactly clinically deranged, but he's not altogether stable, and the nuclear deal with Iran ultimately will threaten the world by giving the rogue regime access to nuclear bombs.

“Secretly his super-intel confesses, I am the biggest threat to the world. I am the climate change that can eliminate us all,” Hodges said.

Hodges explains Obama uses “three basic psycholinguistic maneuvers, all unconscious: denial, projection and use of key images which reflect his true intent.”

“Secretly his words tell us about his true psyche deep down.” Hodges cites a 2014 speech by Obama in which “he secretly confessed to hidden attacks on America driven by a deep inner madness. Not a clinical madness but a ‘near madness’ – the disturbance of a secretly angry traumatized leader,” Hodges said.

Obama, noted Hodges, said Republican inaction “drives you nuts ... and it drives me nuts.” After mentioning the Republicans’ frustrating “inaction,” Obama added: “They’re not doing anything – and they’re mad.”

According to Hodges, unconsciously, Obama is “telling us that his own famous ‘inaction’ represents secret madness and escalating passive-aggression. In short, Obama was projecting his inner turmoil and disguised rage onto Republicans,” Hodges said.

Forensic psychologist Hodges declared, “Remember, things said in jest are ideal for true super-intel confessions. Obama said, ‘With Secret Service, I always tease them, I’m like a caged bear and sometimes I break loose. And I’m feeling super loose today, so you don’t know what I might do.’”

“He is increasingly out of control – ‘super loose’ indeed,” Hodges wrote.

“Madness in the Oval Office guiding the nation is eerily reminiscent of his ‘uncaged bear’ self-image. His flippant comment, ‘no telling what I might do,’ implies the same complete loss of judgment. His imagery depicts destructive rage beyond belief. What the world has always feared – a near-madman at the controls of a nuclear bomb appearing rational on the surface.”

Hodges has suggested Obama was “slipping mentally.” He said, “Not madness such as total loss of control mentally, but more and more drastic behavior seen in disturbed traumatized leaders.”

Hodges, who previously suggested Obama was revealing alarming ideas about martial law and described how the president wants “total gun control,” also has addressed Obama’s opinions on election fraud, how he’s driven by revenge and his ideas about martial law.

The next message from Obama is about climate change, Hodges said. Obama stated just this year: “No challenge – no challenge – poses a greater threat to future generations than climate change. Twenty-fourteen was the planet’s warmest year on record.” Says Hodges, “Add one word and you have his secret confession, ‘[nuclear] climate change greatest threat to future generations’ which fits perfectly with that pact. It’s the ‘Iran deal stupid’ he’s unconsciously talking about. His super-intel sees the truth as he warns the world, not just America, that the Iran deal changes the nuclear climate in an unimaginably dangerous way. Deep down, he knows in a flash it's utterly foolish and Iran can't be trusted.

“Unconsciously, Obama’s staggering image reveals he plans to threaten the entire world by changing the nuclear bomb climate – giving into Iranian demands,” Hodges explained.

Then he referred to the complexity of negotiations with Iran. “Obama noted, ‘It’s a complicated piece of business ... negotiating with a regime that chants ‘Death to America!’ But the people who know most about the central challenge ... which is making sure that Iran does not get a nuclear weapon, they are overwhelmingly in favor of it .’”

“Read through the denial,” Hodges said. “Obama’s blatant denial confession reveals the truth about the deal he favors, ‘making sure that Iran gets a nuclear weapon.’”

Hodges continued: “Next Obama takes us specifically to his mental functioning. In a familiar projection, he accuses Republicans critical of the nuclear agreement of ‘selling a fantasy’ to the American people. Obama’s super-intel confesses his fantasy that Iran’s not dangerous and the deal’s safe.

“Frighteningly he’s that far out of touch with himself. He constantly rationalizes his secret passive-aggressive attacks driven by deep unconscious fears of being attacked himself,” Hodges said.

“In his conscious mind Obama sees the Iran deal as living up to his Nobel Peace Prize. His super intelligence declares this is the greatest misnomer in history. No single person has ever threatened the world in such a way,” he said.

Hodges is not new to the field, already having identified killers by studying ransom notes, emails, letters and police interviews to spot secret confessions. He decoded Simpson’s “suicide note” to reveal Simpson’s links to a double murder. He deciphered the JonBenet Ramsey ransom note in Boulder, Colorado, to identify the child’s killer. He studied statements by Joran van der Sloot and Deepak Kalpoe to tie them to the slaying of Holloway. He claims Casey Anthony secretly confessed to killing her daughter in 200 letters written to a jail mate. He even decoded Bill Clinton’s comments about Monica Lewinsky. (WND, Bob Unruh, Nov.1, 2015).

11. Is Barack Obama a danger to Americans and the world?

As President Obama continues his push to bring more Syrian refugees to America even in the aftermath of the Paris terror attacks by the Islamic State, talk-radio host Rush Limbaugh says the U.S. president is now a threat.

“I’m telling you Obama has become dangerous,” declared Limbaugh on his national broadcast Wednesday. “Where do you think the modern-day, 19- [or] 20-year-old terrorist comes from, Mr. President?”

“We can’t take the world here. There is no right to immigrate. We just can’t accept every human being suffering in this world in the United States.”

12. Is Obama a hypocrite?

Obama in the Philippines on Wednesday slammed Republicans who are pushing efforts to bar Syrian refugees from entering the U.S., calling their words offensive and insisting “it needs to stop.”

“Apparently they’re scared of widows and orphans coming into the United States of America as part of our tradition of compassion,” Obama said. “At first they were worried about the press being too tough on ‘em during debates. Now they’re worried about three-year-old orphans. That doesn’t sound very tough to me.”

How illiterate does Obama think we are? Says Glenn Beck, “Like the emperor with no clothes, President Obama doesn’t seem to recognize his own hypocrisy. When a killer uses a gun to take out students on a school campus, the president condemns the weapon more vehemently than the violence, calling for regulations that would further restrict the Second Amendment rights of law-abiding gun owners — turning them into sitting ducks for the next attack. When an Islamic terrorist murders innocents in the name of Allah, the president tells us not to judge, to be patient, to show understanding. How can he encourage such behavior toward radical extremists?”

Only days after the Paris terrorist attacks, thousands of fans in the stands of a Turkish soccer stadium booed during a moment of silence for the Paris victims. Then they began cheering, “Allah Akbar!”

Glenn Beck pointed out these screaming fans represent the very people President Obama says we should bring into our country by the tens of thousands. “These are the refugees that we should take, the people that come from that culture, that are handing out candy when there is an attack or screaming ‘Allah Akbar’ during a moment of silence for Paris, France,”

“And he says if you disagree with him, you’re just ‘a xenophobe, or you’re afraid of 3-year-olds and orphans.’ That’s a quote.”

In Turkey, President Obama said, “We are not well served when in response to a terrorist attack, we descend into fear and panic.” He went on to say good decisions are never made right after an attack. Why, then, is the president so quick to make judgments following shootings that don’t involve Islamic extremists?

Glenn offered comments made by the president immediately following the tragedy at Sandy Hook as a comparison. “The blood isn’t even washed off the sidewalks, and this man is telling us that we have to get rid of guns. The hypocrisy is astounding,” Glenn said. (Glenn Beck, Nov.18, 2015).

Glenn went on to challenge the president's political posturing about Americans not wanting to allow three-year-old orphans into the country. "You want to bring a boatload, a planeload — you can bring cargo ships full of three-year-old orphans," Glenn said. "I'm having a hard time finding the three-year-old orphans and the widows. I'm finding an awful lot of 18- to 24-year-old men. This is absolutely outrageous."

The Obama Threat

President Obama is basically a Marxist of the "Third World" variety, which means that he lives in the faith that some elite political minority can rule first the United States and Europe, and then the world. In Washington speculation is rife that the end of the Obama years is only the beginning of a run for UN Secretary General, a job he can fiddle into real power, using leftist and Muslim regimes from around the world to support him. Obama's ambition runs his mind and his life. He can't face the end of power.

After watching the man for almost a decade, this is the only ambition that makes sense of his actions. It explains his consistent favoritism for Muslims, no matter how radical or violent. It explains his surrender to Iran's nukes, and his constant collusion with the Muslim Brotherhood, now in active civil war with Egypt's President El Sisi. It explains his comfort with the medieval war theology of Islam, which is also a world-conquering faith.

Like all grandiose narcissists with uncontrollable ambitions, Obama figures he can somehow resolve all the internecine warfare between Shi'ites and Sunnis, between Persians and Arabs, Turks and Kurds, Copts and Salafists, and finally get all "the fifty-seven states" -- 57 is the number of Muslim states in the UN -- to vote for him as a messianic UN Secretary General.

At the UN General Assembly, Europe will vote for him because the Left runs the EU with an iron hand. South America will vote for him in the expectation of "redistribution" of wealth from developed nations to their utterly corrupt, failed regimes.

In the real world, of course, this is a delusion, because the Muslim world is riven by a hundred hatreds, Sunnis against Shi'ites, radicals against modernists, Arabs against Persians, on and on and on. If the phony Palestinian problem is solved tomorrow, Muslim wars will go on just as they have for more than a thousand years. The Saudis are more afraid of Iran than anybody else, because Iran wants to conquer Mecca and Medina in pursuit of its own war theology.

Obama and Jarrett – they are a classic "folie a deux," a two-person cult – started the surrender to Iran at the start of this administration, while lying endless times about never permitting the mullahs to have nuclear weapons. But since 1979 the mullahs have been screaming every single day "Death to Israel! Death to America!"

Liberals are cursed with a delusional inability to believe such threats, no matter how serious they are. Hitler made such threats. Tojo made such threats. Lenin and Stalin made such threats. But history has no impact on liberal minds. Realist people understand world-conquering threats all too well. We are facing the mother of all threats right now!

“Ask ye now, and see whether a man doth travail with child? Why do I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned into paleness?⁷ Alas! for that day is great, so that none is like it. It is even the time of Jacob’s trouble, but he shall be saved out of it” (Jer.30:6-7).

“For these are the days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled. But woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! For there shall be great distress in the land and wrath upon this people. . .

“And there shall be signs in the sun and in the moon and in the stars; and upon the earth distress among nations, with perplexity, the sea and the waves roaring. Men’s hearts will fail them for fear and for looking upon those things which are coming on the earth; for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

“And then shall they see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up and lift up your heads, for your redemption draweth nigh” (Luke 21:22-28).

The Amazing Mystery of God's True Calendar Revealed at Last!

Did God give His people a calendar, to keep track of time?

The western world today goes by the “Roman” calendar, which begins the year January 1, in the dead of winter. The Gregorian calendar is today's internationally accepted civil calendar and is also known as the “Western calendar” or “Christian calendar”. It was named after the man who first introduced it in February 1582: Pope Gregory XIII. The calendar is strictly a solar calendar based on a 365-day common year divided into 12 months of irregular lengths. 11 of the months have either 30 or 31 days, while the second month, February, has only 28 days during the common year.

How important is TIME? In the Scriptures, God commands His people to observe certain days as holy festivals. How can we do that if we can't keep track of when they occur? Hence, God gives us His Calendar in His Word. It is the basis of worshipping Him in “spirit and in truth.”

Does it really matter when we observe God's annual Holy Days? Does it matter if we are just a few days off? There is an old saying, "Close only counts in horseshoes and hand grenades." But does it really matter if we get God's days right?

The Word of God does tell we should observe His annual Feast Days as "holy days to the Lord" (see Leviticus 23). The Biblical holy days are obviously based on the Biblical calendar – the original calendar God gave to Moses and Israel.

Is it all right to tell God, "Well, I only sinned a little bit!"? God's Word says, plainly, "The wages of sin is DEATH" (Rom.6:23). God says, "The soul that sins, it shall DIE" (Ezek18:4, 20). So which is going to be? Are we going to obey GOD? Or go the route that "seems right" to a man, but ends in DEATH (Prov.14:12, 16:25)?

If you had an appointment to see a king on a particular ate, sat a particular time, and you went on the wrong day – you got the dates mixed up – would it be all right? Would the king allow you to interrupt his schedule, and tame up his time, which he had NOT set aside for you? Would he allow you to CHANGE THE DATE ON YOUR OWN CREDENCE?

God set aside certain days as HOLY, and He meets with us on THOSE days. If we are not present, then TOO BAD –for us! We miss Him to our own sorrow and hurt. If it is serious business to keep an appointment with a BOSS or human employer or a KING "on time," and to be punctual, HOW MUCH MORE IS IT IMPORTANT TO KEEP GOD'S APPOINTMENTS ON TIME?

Jesus Christ declared, "The time is coming, IT HAS COME ALREADY, when the real worshippers will worship the Father will worship the Father in Spirit and in REALITY; for these are the worshippers that the Father desires. God is Spirit, and his worshippers must worship him in Spirit and in reality" (John 4:24, Moffatt). Sample chapters include:

Letters from Readers

“I keep hearing that this age of man’s rule on this earth can go on for another 20 or 30 years. But at the rate we are destroying every thing, man will destroy everything before then.

“At the rate we are destroying the United States, it will not be a good place to live very soon.

“It is hard to believe all the genetic modification of every thing that is going on. I know it is said that at the end of the age it will be like the days of Noah and it is happening before our eyes.

“It is hard to believe that Putin seems to be the protector of Christianity and Macdaddy is a destroyer of Christianity and an instigator of any thing Muslim.”

-- Charles Rearick

“I know you had quoted from people like Michael Savage (the conservative radio host). I’m a loyal listener of him. I was wondering if you have ever reached out to people like him. I know his views really good and I know your books on the identity of America and Great Britain and ‘the lost ten tribes’ will strike Dr. Savage. He has never been exposed to True Christianity. Have you ever reached out to him? I’m just curious if you ever reach out to ‘popular figures.’

“I also would like to know your opinion on Donald Trump. I’m a Hispanic that agrees with Trump’s immigration views but I don’t know much of his history or his faith and morality. I want America to be great again so I turned back to the God of our fathers, YHVH, all glory be to Him. But Ephraim is not as strong as he thinks he is. As a nation we are allowing atrocities to Christians in the Middle East, we are stimulating hatred through the Internet from non-Americans and yet we are inviting them in and legalize the ones already here. All morality is now viewed as ‘out of date’ and we even put the gay flag on the White House while allowing U.S.’s flag to be burned and ridiculed. Me and my family are striving to please God but I’m really worried about the country and the people I love so much. If I didn’t know about the World Tomorrow and the True Kingdom of God, I would be shaking in fear.

“May Yahveh bless you and keep your family and loved ones under His loving care.”

“Sir, I’ve been reading and studying your articles and I’m learning things that are new to me and you are making me see things in a new light. I just finished reading your book God’s True Calendar, and all I can say is Wow! It is harder to ‘unlearn’ something than it is to learn something new. I’ve always believed, like so many others, that the count to Pentecost was from the weekly Sabbath and that Pentecost always falls on a Sunday but the facts and evidence you present in your book are undisputable. The unique way you teach is quite wonderful, you guide the reader in a straight path of truth and evidence and when one finishes your article or book the reader finds himself with no question left unanswered and the plain truth shining in his eyes like the brightest sun. All that is left is for one to admit that he was wrong and to accept the truth before him.”
